LIGHT LIST AT SPRING ASSIZES OPENING TODAY

Murder Charge Off Through Illness of Indicted Japanese
Three Other Cases to go to Grand Jury

With only four cases to go to the grand jury, one of which is a murder charge against K. Yamamoto, Port Alice mill worker who is sick in a Vancouver hospital and unable to stand trial, the Victoria Spring Assizes opened to-day before Judge Morrison.

SMUGGLING CHARGE

Among the other cases on the list is Rex E. Louis Joseph Levy, general agent in Victoria, Thomas Lington Newton, former second steward on the S. Princess Alice, committed for trial on a charge of harboring smuggled goods. Defendants are accused of bringing in five machine guns and cartridges and one revolver. The munitions, it was alleged during the police court proceedings, were for shipment to China for one of the warring factions in the "Oriental" civil war.

Norman Joseph de Graves, Vancouver customs officer, is chief witness for the prosecution.

John McGrath is indicted on a statutory offence.

Pon Poy Lung, indicted on a charge of arson, is charged with attempting to set fire to the home of another Chinaman, Lee Hung, on Discovery Street last December.

TOO ILL TO APPEAR

In the murder charge on the list but held over by order of the Attorney-General K. Yamamoto is charged with killing Y. Takagashi. It is alleged that during a quarrel at the Port Alice mill, Yamamoto, dared by Takagashi, struck at him with a pickaxe, a small axlike instrument used by mill workers in handling lumber. Takagashi died some time later from his injuries.

Yamamoto is himself now seriously ill and doubt whether he would live even to the opening date set for the assizes.

J. B. Clearhouse, crown prosecutor, for the present assizes asked permission for the case of Yamamoto to be transferred to the next assizes.

The application was granted.

GRAND JURY

The grand jury was sworn in as follows: S. M. O'Brien, foreman; W. V. Allen, G. G. Ellis, G. G. Fraser, W. B. George, V. K. Gray, H. H. King, Fred Lewis, P. Linklater, C. T. Nelson, J. W. O'Neil, Roland H. Powell and Andrew Smith.

TRUE BILL AGAINST PON

A true bill was returned against Pon Poy Lung charged with arson. Appearing on his behalf F. C. Elliott asked that the case go over to the next assizes. He had been instructed that defendants wished to call material witnesses who were not available. J. B. Clearhouse pointed out the case was one from last December. The judge expressed his reluctance to granting an adjournment during which witnesses for the Crown might possibly disappear or die. He consented to a recess for crown counsel to consult his witnesses and also to confer with counsel for the defence.

Court adjourned until he had appeared again before the judge.

SOVIET SAYS FUNDS SENT TO BRITAIN

Moscow Leaders State Striking British Miners Accepting Russian Money

Moscow, May 18.—The Soviet News Agency announces A. J. Cook, secretary of the British Miners' Federation, has accepted "with deepest thanks" the money given by the Soviet miners to aid the strikers in Great Britain. The news agency adds that Mr. Cook has requested the money be transferred immediately to England, "as the miners' need is very great."

Previous dispatches from Russia announced the sum collected for the British miners in Soviet Russia amounted to about $1,000,000. The money was offered to the British Trades Union Congress during the recent general strike, but was said to have been refused.

A dispatch from London last night said:

"The offer made by the Russian Miners' Congress at Moscow has aroused much interest. The money was offered to assist the wives and families of the British miners. J. Cook, secretary of the Federation, favors acceptance and the question will be discussed at a conference of miners' delegates called for Thursday. The Miners' Federation funds are very low and Secretary Cook's idea is to welcome funds from any source."

Spanish Gain in Morocco Reported

SPEAKS AT GENEVA FOR GREAT BRITAIN; VISCOUNT CECIL

One of the British delegates attending the preliminary disarmament conference in Geneva, which began to-day, is Viscount Cecil, already well known in connection with League of Nations assemblies in the Swiss city.

TWENTY NATIONS REPRESENTED AT GENEVA ARMS CONFERENCE

Geneva, May 18.—The preparatory commission on disarmament, called to arrange the programme for an eventual international disarmament conference, held its first meeting here to-day. Delegates of twenty nations participated.

FIRE FIGHTERS ARE AIDED BY RAINS

Situation in Eastern Manitoba Eased by Moisture, Say Latest Reports

No Loss of Life so Far Reported; no Farm Buildings in Path of Flames

Winnipeg, May 18.—Forestry officials who have been aided by hundreds of volunteers and the Royal Canadian Air Service in the fight against acres of forest fires which have menaced Eastern and North-eastern Manitoba districts during the past few days were heartened this morning when rain was reported in several sections of the danger area. The dangerous conditions which have prevailed due to high winds and the lack of rain will be overcome in many cases, the reports said. The fact that the outbreaks were started, it is claimed, by fire fighters, by farmers clearing acreage in preparation for breaking.

AT HEAD OF LAKES

Reports from the head of the Great Lakes, where the fire has been in the Thunder Bay district is unchanged to-day. There have been many fires, though generally they are of a minor nature and have not endangered settlements.

RED LAKE RAILROAD PLAN DISAPPROVED

Commons Committee Recommends no Permission be Given Ontario Line

Ottawa, May 18.—After a few minutes' discussion, the railway committee of the House this morning rejected a bill for the construction of a railway line from Quibell, Ontario, to the Canadian National, about 100 miles north to the new gold mining district of Red Lake. The committee's decision came on the preamble of the bill, which was defeated by 24 to 13, the bill itself thus being killed.

Later the committee decided to report to the House the bill was not in the public interest.

Charles B. Hibbard, one of the promoters of the bill, told the committee that while it was proposed at first to build to Red Lake, the company was seeking authority to extend eventually to the Hudson Bay branch of the Canadian National. The company had a four-fold development in view, namely, development of the agricultural territory north of the Quibell, waterpower on the English River, the building of a pulp mill, and the mines at Red Lake and in the vicinity.

Darcy Scott of Ottawa, representing the promoters, said the bill had been submitted to Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, and they had no objection.

QUESTION ABOUT RATES

G. B. Nicholson, Conservative, East Altona, Ontario, asked how such a railway, operated as a separate line, could give fair rates to the public and expect to pay.

CORN DOCTOR WILL NOT BE TRIED; A-G. STOPS PROSECUTION

Dr. M. E. Melle, who was charged in the City Police Court recently for securing money by means of fraud in connection with his corn cure process and committed for trial on April 15, will not be tried, it was announced at the Attorney-General's Department to-day. After examining the evidence presented against Dr. Melle, the Attorney-General has decided that it is insufficient to justify him continuing the prosecution; it was stated. Accordingly no indictment was presented against the corn doctor when the Spring Assizes got under way here to-day.

ONTARIO SOON TO RAISE $20,000,000

New York, May 18 (Canadian Press).—The Province of Ontario, the financial district here has heard, is about to announce the reception of tenders for $20,000,000 of bonds.

This will be the first visit of the Canadian province to the New York market this year.

CITY'S BUILDING BOOM MAY BE HELD UP BY WAGE FIGHT

Carpenters Prepared to Call Out Men in Support of $7 Demand

Some Contractors Concede Men's Request, While Others Refuse Increase

Victoria's home building boom, which is beginning to reach substantial proportions, may run into a serious snag in the form of a carpenters' strike next month unless contractors and their employees can reach an amicable agreement within the next few days.

Arrangements for calling a strike of all carpenters in the city in support of a $7 daily wage are now being made by the Carpenters' Union, it was learned to-day. Contractors who are watching the situation closely said to-day they did not know whether a strike could be prevented or not. Some contractors have agreed to pay the $7 wage but others have refused the men's demands.

The Carpenters' Union will be satisfied with nothing less than an increase in wages by all contractors. It is prepared to call a strike even should a small number of employers reject their wage request. Carpenters assert that not only union men but non-union workers also will join the strike, if it is called.

LEADERS WILL NOT VOTE ON BUDGET

Premier King Pairs With Mr. Meighen Because Conservative Leader Indisposed

Majority of Ten or Eleven in Commons For Government Predicted

Ottawa, May 18.—Premier King and Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, will not participate in the vote on the budget in the House of Commons to-night. This unique situation will result because of an agreement entered into early this afternoon whereby the two leaders are paired owing to the indisposition of Mr. Meighen.

The Premier is expected to open his speech on the budget this afternoon, but the Conservative leader, who is confined to his home, will be unable to address the House. The probability is that Hon. R. B. Bennett, West Calgary, who was Minister of Justice in the Meighen administration, will follow Premier King from the Conservative benches.

The vote will probably take place late to-night. Liberals are predicting a majority of ten or eleven for the Government. All absent members are expected to be paired with exception of Alfred Speckman, Progressive, Inland Deer, Alberta, who is in a hospital.

PAYMENTS ARE MADE WITHOUT ANY BIAS

Premier King Denies Influence Weighs in Home Bank Depositors' Affairs

Ottawa, May 18.—"Influence has no bearing on the matter," said Premier King in the House of Commons this afternoon regarding the payment of Home Bank depositors. Peter McMillan, Conservative, Muskoka, Ontario, has quoted a newspaper article which said some depositors found it difficult to obtain their money because they lacked influence.

The Prime Minister said influence had nothing to do with it. He understood a group of depositors had held a meeting, discussed their position and decided to come to Ottawa in the form of a deputation to make their representations to the Government. When they came, said Mr. King, they would be received, like any other delegation, and their claims would be given every consideration.

SEVERAL HURT IN LISBON RIOT

Lisbon, May 18.—Rioting broke out in Parliament Square here to-day after a disorderly sitting of the Chamber of Deputies, which was considering the question of a tobacco monopoly.

When the galleries of the chamber were cleared, the rioters surged to the floor and began fighting. Police and guards charged the crowd. Several persons were wounded and many arrests were made.

True Bills Returned

After the luncheon recess the Grand Jury at the Victoria Assizes reported true bills against Levy and Newton, charged with smuggling arms into Canada, and also against John McGrath, charged with a statutory offence. The Grand Jury was then discharged, having completed its work.

Pon Poy Lung, charged with arson, pleaded not guilty to the charge, and his trial begins.

AMUNDSEN AND NOBILE IN CLASH

Norwegian Put Out Because Norge Pilot Radioed North Pole Flight Story

Copies of Nugget, Nome Newspaper, With Article Quickly Bought by Citizens

Nome, May 18.—Rolf Amundsen showed signs of great perturbation when he heard an account of his party's flight over the North Pole had been written by Umberto Nobile and published.

"There might be something in there I would want to deny," exclaimed Amundsen, commander of the expedition which, on the dirigible Norge, last Thursday completed its trip to Teller, seventy-five miles northwest of Nome.

Amundsen made this exclamation as he pleaded fairly yesterday with the publisher of the Nome Nugget to let the explorer read Nobile's narrative before publication.

Nobile piloted the Norge. The account by Colonel Nobile was radioed by him to Premier Mussolini of Italy. Mussolini received the narrative in Rome, and the Associated Press telegraphed and called it to the Nome Nugget.

The Nugget, a four-page, closely-printed paper, which next to The News-Miner at Fairbanks, Alaska, is the farthest north weekly paper in the Associated Press, did a record-breaking business yesterday afternoon.

Nearly everybody in Nome, seeing Amundsen around the Nugget office and noting signs of his displeasure as he left, hurried to the place at publication time. As fast as the press, which is not by any means the fastest in the world, could turn out the papers, they were snatched by purchasers.

"I am afraid the crowd was disappointed," remarked George S. Hayward, publisher of the Nugget, and four times mayor of Nome. "I do not believe there was anything radical in the Nobile article, though it was certainly a good, interesting account of the Norge's wonderful exploit."

HEARD ABOUT DISPATCH
"Captain Amundsen called at The Nugget office," related Maynard, "and requested permission to read a message I had received from the Associated Press. Somehow he had learned this dispatch related details of the Norge's flight, which Nobile had sent Premier Mussolini, and that the Norge was about to publish the dispatch."

"Naturally, I told Captain Amundsen I could not let him read such a dispatch before my paper was published. Amundsen seemed greatly excited. He gave me the impression that maybe Nobile was telling the world something different from what Amundsen had said."

NANAIMO RULED OUT AS SCENE OF TRIAL

Judge Orders Sloan-McRae Suit Heard in Victoria or New Westminster

Vancouver, May 18.—Change of venue for the trial of Hon. William Sloan's $50,000 libel action against Major-General A. D. McRae has been ordered by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald from Nanaimo to either Victoria or New Westminster.

From the material filed on the defendant's application for a change of venue, the judge concluded there would be a serious injury and injustice to the case of General McRae were the trial to be heard by a Nanaimo jury. To have a fair trial, according to Mr. Justice Macdonald, justice required it should take place in some other city, and of those mentioned in the argument the judge rejected Vancouver and gave Mr. Sloan the choice of either Victoria or New Westminster.

APPEAL PLANNED

The judgment, granting a change of venue, will be appealed to the Court of Appeal, which is to sit in Victoria in June, according to J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., the plaintiff's counsel.

In any event, the trial can not proceed at the Nanaimo assizes on June 1, which is the opening date.

STRONG DESIRE
"In his written reasons for judgment Mr. Justice Macdonald, after citing numerous precedents in both England and Canada, says in part as follows:

Insanity Plea To be Advanced

Vancouver, May 18.—Establishment of an insanity plea was indicated when Sotaru Furukawa, appeared before Magistrate H. C. Shaw in the police court here this morning charged with slaying his sister-in-law and nephew here on April 16, and was formally committed to stand trial.

That the accused had suffered a mental breakdown in his youth, and that there was also insanity on the mother's side of the family were facts brought out by A. J. Capelle, defence counsel, in the cross-examination of Sotaru Furukawa, widower and father of the child and brother of the accused.

TWO MINISTRIES IN POLAND NOW

Berlin Papers Say New Pilsulski Cabinet is Opposed by One in Posen

Berlin, May 18.—Berlin newspapers say a rival Polish government has been set up in Posen under General Haller, who formed the Polish Legion in the United States during World War. This coup was taken after peace negotiations with Marshal Pilsulski's new government had failed.

Strikings between troops of the two parties, resulting in considerable casualties, are reported to have already occurred.

General Haller's forces are estimated at 27,000. They are camped at Lodz and Kalisz. The general is said to have ordered an advance in preparation for an attack on Warsaw.

LIST OF CASUALTIES

London, May 18.—A Reuter dispatch from Warsaw says deaths in hospitals have brought the total of those killed in the fighting in Warsaw from May 12 to 15 to 310.

Earlier direct Warsaw advices said it was authoritative that the number of those killed in the Pilsulski coup was around 500 and that 1,000 were wounded.

MANY WOUNDED
Vienna, May 18.—The Cracow (Poland) newspaper Kurjer Czynny reports that a volley was fired this morning from the windows of the Geographical Institute in Warsaw at the Thirty-eighth Infantry Regiment, a large number of men being wounded.

In consequence of the incident, the papers added, Marshal Pilsulski has ordered his volunteers disarmed.

FORCES CONCENTRATED
Breslau, Prussian Silesia, May 18.—The continued concentration of Polish troops on the Polish-German border is agitating the German Silesian populace. Within the last few days large bodies of troops have been observed in movement, while Polish soldiers in the Polish reserves were called out in Polish Silesia.

Governor-General Visits a Hospital

Vancouver, May 18.—Everyone of the 180 patients in the Shaughnessy Military Hospital had a personal conversation with the Governor-General on Canada day. Lord and Lady Byng paid a visit of inspection to the institution this morning.

FRENCH FRANC TO-DAY DROPPED TO NEW DEPTHS

In Paris It Went Down to 35.35 to Dollar; In New York It Sagged to 2.875 Cents and Belgian Franc Fell to New Low Level at 2.845 Cents; French Public Is Amazed at Situation.

Paris, May 18.—The exchange value of the French franc after the closing of the Bourse this afternoon fell to a new low level of 35.35 to the dollar.

At the close of trading on the Bourse the franc was at 34.7 to the dollar and 168.4 to the pound sterling, but the pound brought 169 francs in outside dealings.

The French public is amazed at the situation, for which there seems to be no domestic situation. It is thought continued selling of francs in Brussels and Rome to protect Belgian and Italian exchanges is partly responsible.

NEW YORK PRICES
New York, May 18.—New low records for all time were established by French and Belgian francs on the local foreign exchange market to-day, the former dropping to 2.875 cents and the Belgian exchange sinking to 2.845.

A flight of capital from both countries seeking investment safety in the gold standard currencies of Great Britain and the United States was reflected in the selling of the European continental exchanges.

CONFIDENCE NOT RESTORED
Some improvement has been noted in France's actual financial position in recent weeks, but it has failed to restore confidence in the Government's budget plans.

With a similar situation existing in Belgium, a large speculative interest on the short side has been built up in France without meeting organized opposition, although both countries are expected eventually to change at a designated level.

The normal pre-war exchange rate of the French franc was 19 2-10 cents.

SCHOOLS MARK INTERNATIONAL GOODWILL DAY

Teachers Impress on Pupils Importance of Harmony Between Nations

International Goodwill Day was observed in all the public and high schools of British Columbia to-day. Carrying out for better feelings between nations, teachers in all schools chose lessons for to-day which would impress upon their pupils the necessity of international harmony if wars more disastrous than the last are to be avoided. In some classes teachers gave brief talks on this subject to their students.

The International Goodwill Day movement originated at a world conference of educationists in San Francisco in 1922 and sponsored by educational organizations all over the world. Parent-teacher associations everywhere are supporting it enthusiastically.

TWO-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, May 18.—Two years' imprisonment was the sentence imposed on Ray W. Page, alias Charles Tollington, by Judge H. C. Shaw in the police court here to-day after he had pleaded guilty to six charges of breaking and entering on one of them. No charge was laid against him in connection with his two unsuccessful attempts to break jail last week-end.

DIVISION OF ESTATE BRINGS B.C. $110,000

Vancouver, May 18.—The Province of British Columbia became heir to $110,000 when Norman Russell Lang, managing director of the Powell River Pulp and Paper Company Limited, died here on April 5 last. Probate and administration of the estate revealed Mr. Lang, who died intestate, had amassed a fortune of approximately $750,000.

The succession duties, as figured out by the Government, amounted to almost $110,000, and this amount was paid into the Supreme Court registry yesterday.

The basis on which the estate was taxed was 15 1/2-100 per cent.

FIVE KILLED IN FIGHTING IN INDIA

Calcutta, May 18.—Five persons were killed and twenty-one seriously injured to-day in disturbances between religious factions in Kharagpur, Bengal.

The order covered a wide range of articles. A dog was one of them. The witness said there was no difficulty about examining the dog. Trunks, baby carriages, riding boots, clothing and a cream separator were among the other articles dealt with in the memorandum from the collector.

Mr. Wilson was in the courtroom when his order was read and there it lay throughout the morning. He has been called as a witness.

FIRST BEER VOTE SINCE PLEBISCITE TO BE HELD MAY 29

Revelstoke Given Chance to Change Its Decision Recorded Two Years Ago

Revelstoke, which voted against beer in the plebiscite of 1924, will be given a chance this month to reverse its decision and usher in an era of beer by the glass. Under arrangements approved by the Cabinet this morning a plebiscite on the beer question will be held in the interior city on May 29.

This will be the first vote in the Province since the general plebiscite two years ago. It will be the result of a strong agitation in favor of beer bars in Revelstoke. Those who are behind this movement assert that the people of the city have changed their mind since they decided against beer and that they should be given an opportunity to record their present views.

The registered voters. In view of this large number the Government agreed to the vote.

EXPECT WET VOTE
On the figures of the last Revelstoke election it is expected that the vote will carry the day on May 29. Forty per cent of the voters voting in favor of beer will be sufficient to bring back the foaming beverage, it is expected.

If Revelstoke goes wet, as it is expected to do it will be the third city in the Province to secure beer bars since the 1924 plebiscite. Port Colquhoun and Port Moody, although they state they were given beer bars by a Government order-in-council a few days ago. Any city which files a beer petition signed by over forty per cent of the registered voters. In view of this large number the Government agreed to the vote.

GOODS CLEARED WITH NO DUTIES PAID

Montreal Customs Officer Tells Commons Committee About Collector's Orders

Ottawa, May 18.—Customs Officer B. Balthasar of Montreal told the Commons customs inquiry committee this forenoon he had passed trunks and various articles without examination on orders from W. S. Waldon, collector of customs at Montreal. Balthasar was on duty at the Windsor Station.

Nearly the whole morning was occupied with the reading of orders from the Montreal collector to the customs examiners to release goods for certain specified reasons. R. I. Calder, K.C., committee counsel, read the orders to the witness and Balthasar then commented on them if he had anything to say. His attitude was that an instruction from the collector must be obeyed, though sometimes he thought he was required to pass goods which were new and dutiable. Because he thought some of the instructions improper, he had refused the orders authorizing the clearance.

WIDE RANGE

The order covered a wide range of articles. A dog was one of them. The witness said there was no difficulty about examining the dog. Trunks, baby carriages, riding boots, clothing and a cream separator were among the other articles dealt with in the memorandum from the collector.

Mr. Wilson was in the courtroom when his order was read and there it lay throughout the morning. He has been called as a witness.

NEW UNITED STATES HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Atlantic City, N.J., May 18.—A plea to health workers to organize themselves for health rather than against specific diseases, in one organization instead of many, was made before 3,500 members of sixteen national volunteer health associations here last night by Dr. Lee K. Frankel, chairman of the National Health Council of the United States.

Addressing the opening session of the first United States health congress ever held, Dr. Frankel virtually proposed that it should be the last, his speech advocating the elimination of the various health organizations before him.

To eliminate duplication in organization, in education and in drives for funds, he proposed that health associations amalgamate, as the charitable associations had done in the community chests.

In NATIONAL TERMS

"It is the psychological moment to think in terms of national health rather than of specific diseases," he asked.

"Are we prepared to visualize the eradication of tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer, venereal disease, child mortality and insanity not as separate entities but as mal-adjustments which require concerted efforts?"

The National Tuberculosis Association, American Heart Association, and many other health organizations are now being urged to merge

into a single national health council, which would coordinate

all health activities and present a united front to the public.

Dr. Frankel's address was the first of a series of lectures on the subject of national health which will be given during the congress.

The congress will continue until Friday.

It is expected that the final resolution will be passed by a large majority.

The health council had failed in its purpose, according to Dr. Frankel, "in view of the fact that as the autonomy of each society had to be preserved,

it frequently placed the council in a delicate situation and no constructive programme could be carried out."

Dr. Frankel pointed out that city, state and federal health departments

had already carried out the coordination of all health activities as he now proposed that the volunteer health associations should do.

POPULAR YOUNG CHURCH WORKER IS LAID AT REST

Funeral service was held at the Sands Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon over the remains of Phyllis Mary Elliott, daughter of the late George R. Elliott and Mrs. Frances Elliott of Chemainus, who passed away on Saturday at the home of her brother, Frederick Elliott of Chemainus.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. M. Cook of Chemainus, assisted by Dr. Camp and the Rev. J. Strachan. The hymns sung were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Many beautiful floral tributes were received.

The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. F. W. Hawes, G. Streeter, G. Robinson, B. J. McMillen, W. R. Clark and G. Johnson. The remains were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The late Miss Elliott was born in Chemainus twenty years ago. At the age of five years she moved with her parents to Genoa Bay, subsequently coming to Victoria. She was educated in North Quadra School and later at the Victoria High School. She was a member of First Baptist Church and was actively connected with church work, having been a member of the choir and teacher in the Sunday school and she will be greatly missed by the younger people.

After being in bad health for about a year, Miss Elliott was removed to Chemainus a few weeks ago for the benefit of her health, but pneumonia supervened and proved fatal. She is mourned by her mother, one sister, Mrs. Grant Johnson of Victoria, and one brother, Frederick.

Credulity is one of the most engaging attributes of childhood. During an illusionist's performance at a certain theatre, two boys were discussing the mystery.

"What do you think makes the lady stay up in the air without anything holding her?" one youngster asked.

"Oh, that's easy," the other replied.

"The man just says a magic word and that's all there is to it. You could do it, too, if you knew the magic word."

Indigestion

When chronic, is best relieved by Dr. Chase's

Kidney-Liver Pills.

In most cases, indigestion results from torpid liver and sluggish bowel action. Tablets for the stomach and aids to digestion fail in this chronic form of indigestion. You must get the filtering and excretory organs right before you can expect permanent relief and this is best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Chronic indigestion is a very common condition. On this account many suffer for years not realizing that relief is at hand in the form of Dr. Chase's Kidney-

Liver Pills. Headaches, biliousness, spells of constipation and diarrhoea

are among the accompanying ailments.

What a relief it would be to be free of this condition which makes one feel so miserable and it is so easy by using this well-known regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

Winnipeg, May 18.—The lost heir to the estate and title of the Earl of Oxford may prove to be a man who has lived in Winnipeg for the last four or five years, according to information secured by a local newspaper. The man is Frederick Mason, son of one of the claimants for the estate, who at present is out of employment and is now seeking a position as soda fountain clerk in a railway station refreshment booth here.

Mr. Mason's mother and his uncle, C. Lawrence of Vancouver are two of five of the family who are putting in claims, and are now collecting legal evidence.

CAPT. TREMBLAY ABSENT

Ottawa, May 18.—Capt. Tremblay, of the famous barge Tremblay, failed to appear when the Commons customs inquiry committee resumed its sessions this morning. Chairman

Paul Mercier read a telegram informing the committee the captain was traveling "on the south coast," presumably of the St. Lawrence River.

The captain also failed to respond to a telegram summoning him to appear last Friday, and the committee

this morning showed signs of becoming impatient.

ONE MORE CALL

"There is no doubt about it, Capt.

Tremblay knows he is summoned," said Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre. "I suggest that you, Mr. Chairman, exercise the power which you have and see that

Capt. Tremblay is brought here."

Chairman Mercier discussed the matter with Mr. Stevens for a few minutes, when it was decided to summon the master of the Tremblay

once more before taking more drastic steps.

CLEARED GOODS

B. Balthasar, Montreal customs officer, had been ordered sometimes to clear goods without examination, he told the committee.

Mr. Balthasar produced to the committee a bundle of such orders,

signed by Collector Weldon of Mon-

CABLE CAR RUNS WILD; 206 PEOPLE HURT—Six people were perhaps fatally hurt and 206 more were less seriously injured when a cable car was hit by an auto on one of San Francisco's steep hills and careened wildly down the street, crashing into another car near the bottom. Photo shows the two cars telescoped with workmen clearing the wreckage to separate them.

silks was included in this trunk which

Mr. Balthasar thought was certainly dutiable, but he had obeyed the order of his collector.

Mr. Balthasar said that in the case of some of the articles, he thought they were new. He remembered two baby carriages very well, and said they seemed to him to be new, but the collector's orders said they had been in use for six months.

Seventy odd memos authorizing entries without examination were read by R. L. Calder, K.C., counsel for committee, during the morning.

A good many of the trunks thus released belonged to newly-married people and the wedding presents were admitted as settlers' effects.

On November 16, 1922, two bags

were released in this way to Senator

Beaubien, who was on his way from France to Ottawa. One of the bags contained a present from France to the Prime Minister. It was not revealed what the gift was nor who was the donor.

On another occasion a clergyman

on his way to the West Indies had to get an order returning to him a second-hand cornet, given to him as a present en route. "For his use in his work there," the memo said.

The reading of the memos was not finished when the noon adjournment was reached.

HAD ECZEMA ALL HER LIFE

Every person suffering from eczema and similar skin trouble will be interested in the surprising recovery of Mrs. Moses Des Roches, of Central Bedouque, P.E.I., from a stubborn eczema from which she suffered since childhood.

This is another of the 35,000 cases which have been conquered in the same remarkable manner by the Ovelmo Treatment which druggists are now supplying.

Regarding her experience Mrs. Des Roches says, "I had eczema since infancy and tried everything but nothing seemed to conquer it till I tried Ovelmo. My scalp was affected and the disease killed my hair growth."

"Ovelmo quickly healed the eruption and now my hair is growing again and I feel fine."

Druggists say nearly everyone who tries Ovelmo is surprised and delighted at the way it stops the itching, soothes the inflamed surface and heals the eruptions leaving the skin clean, clear and healthy.

One of the secrets of its remarkable success is that Ovelmo contains internal and external medicines which the best authorities to-day declare is necessary in most cases.

It is clean, stainless, odorless and very pleasant to use. Try it. Your druggist will refund your money if you are not delighted with results. (Advt.)

Archbishop de Pencier Tells Old Country Congregations About Caledonia Diocese

London, May 18 (Canadian Press Cable)—Most Rev. A. U. de Pencier, D.D., Vancouver, Archbishop of New Westminster and Metropolitan of the Ecclesiastical Province of British Columbia, preached in Westminster Abbey in behalf of the new Diocese of Caledonia, British Columbia, and at the close of the service was approached by a woman who was unknown to him and given a cheque for £500. The general collection at the service was £50. The Archbishop also received provisional cheques of £100 each from two church societies here.

Archbishop de Pencier on June 4 will preach in St. Paul's Cathedral in the morning and in Chester Cathedral, 200 miles away, in the evening. He will preach in six other cathedrals next month.

The Archbishop, who is sixty years of age and was educated at Trinity University, Toronto, was ordained in 1890, and was rector of St. Matthew's Church, Brandon, Man., 1904-08, and St. Paul's, Vancouver, 1908-10.

AUSTRALIANS DEBATE NATION'S DEFENCE

Gen. Monash Says Country Unprepared; Premier Says Plans Are Adequate

Special to The Times
Melbourne, Australia, May 18.—Declaring Australia could not wage a war in her own defence for twenty-four hours, General Sir John Monash, who commanded the Commonwealth forces in the World War, urges the great need of developing the industrial plants, without which the country is helpless. To Canada, as that country is placed, Australia's anxiety about defence may appear exaggerated. Yet the country, largely empty, is in the position of being absolutely dependent on the British navy, while the navy, according to many strategists, is too far away to protect its charge.

"If supplies from abroad were cut off, or if Great Britain lost the command of the seas, we would be entirely at the mercy of any invader," says Sir John Monash. "Our engineering development is quite inadequate to deal with the massed production of war material, and Australia lacks technical knowledge. Yet Australians are afraid to ask people to come from abroad to teach them."

Premier Bruce claims to have adequate defence plans under way, but at present Australia could take no part, even defensive, if war occurred anywhere in the Pacific.

JAPANESE STATEMENTS
On the other hand, distinguished Japanese in Australia never cease to protest against the policy that Japan cherishes an aggressive policy, that Japan regards the Commonwealth as an important member of the Pacific community of nations in evidence from the appointment, as Consul-General, of Prince Tokugawa, a leading member of the famous family whose chiefs, if the revolution had not taken place, would to-day rule Japan as Shoguns. Prince Tokugawa insists on his country's friendly feeling for Australia.

Dr. Ochiai, a Japanese churchman and a professor in Tokyo University, has studied the Australian people and their country, and he declares militant Japan has disappeared forever. He advocates the promotion of a better understanding between the two nations by the exchange of representative students and lecturers. Except among the extreme Labor and pacifist sections the belief is growing, however, that, even if Japanese militarism has disappeared, the Commonwealth as an outlet for their surplus population, Australia's failure to develop her empty territories, such as the uninhabited northern areas, amounts to tempting land-hungry nations to dream of embracing the opportunity Australia neglects.

TOLMIE HEARD IN DEBATE ON BUDGET

Victoria Member Tells Commons Canadians Should Develop Home Market

Ottawa, May 18.—Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Conservative, Victoria, shared in the budget debate in the Commons last evening. He said he had been surprised to hear certain members express disdain of the Canadian home market. Canada must have an export market and the natural one was in the United States. The high tariff prevailing in that country, however, shut out Canadian products. Consequently the home market must be cultivated.

FARMERS AND TARIFF

Dr. Tolmie wished to deny statements made by previous speakers that the United States farmers were tired of the tariff prevailing over them on agricultural products. He said he had observed that when large quantities of butter were released after the seamen's strike in New Zealand and Australia, the United States increased its tariff on butter from eight to twelve cents a pound. A short time previous to that the Government of Canada had lowered its tariff on the same product from the Antipodes to one cent a pound. The great beef-producing industries of the United States were strongly in favor of protection, said Dr. Tolmie, quoting resolutions passed at recent annual meetings of beef growers in support of this statement.

CEMENT WORKERS

Dr. Tolmie urged increased protection for cement manufacturers on the Pacific Coast against Oriental competition. White cement workers in Canada earned from $4 to $6 a day, he said, while the average Japanese cement worker was paid about ninety-eight cents a day. Dr. Tolmie urged a living wage must be paid in Canada and that the high standard of living for Canadian workers should be maintained.

TRAM-CARS SHUNNED BY PEDESTRIANS—Londoners refused to board tram-cars manned by volunteer strike breakers in the crowded sections, preferring to walk rather than risk injury if strikers attacked the car during the strike. Radiophoto shows empty car passing through crowds.

WHERE RIOTS REPLACED BUSTLE OF SHIPPING—London's docks, normally the busiest in the world, here are shown completely tied up by the strike last week and virtually deserted. These docks, however, were the scene of the most turbulent riots reported, and troops were held in readiness to aid the police if further disturbances occurred.

NEW LABOR PLAN IN AUSTRALIA

Special to The Times
Sydney, Australia, May 18.—An experiment in Labor legislation has been undertaken by the Labor Government of New South Wales, which has abolished the arbitration courts set up some years ago to compel parties to industrial disputes to submit to arbitration and accept the awards of wages and hours promulgated by the courts. The position has been that, whereas employers had to obey the awards, it was difficult to force a powerful union to observe conditions that did not suit them.

The Government has now appointed A. B. Piddington, K.C., a distinguished lawyer and student of social problems, as industrial commissioner, with wide powers to hold conferences and settle disputes. He will also periodically declare a minimum wage in accordance with variations in the estimated cost of living. It is desired to keep the commission as free as possible from legal influences, and the commissioner's assessors, who will be allowed only out-of-pocket expenses, will be laymen representing employers and workers.

Rumanian Town Ruined by Fire

Bucharest, May 18.—A disastrous fire yesterday destroyed the greater part of the town of Bacau, in Moldavia, about 150 miles north of Bucharest. Thousands of persons were made homeless.

Duncan

Special to The Times
Duncan, May 18.—The display of drills, dancing, etc., given by the First Cowichan Girl Guides in Queen Margaret's School grounds on Saturday afternoon was both interesting and instructive. Fire drill, in which the Guides took part, was most realistic. Smoke poured from one of the top windows of the school, and whilst the school patrols "manned" the ladders and rescued those inside, the rest of the Guides formed the bucket chain, and the Brownies formed a barrier to keep the public back. Fancy marching and exercises, taught by Miss Honor Taylor, were excellently done, and the three country dances, "If All the World Were Paper," "Old Mole" and "Maze on a Cross," taught by Miss Dawson-Thomson, were most delightfully given and much enjoyed by the spectators. Those taking part in the dances were Rosalind Birch, Betty Abbott, Sylvia Marlow, Margaret Frank, Poppy Beale, Daphne Barber, Starkey, Catherine Willock and Alice Smith. Afternoon tea, candy and cooked food stalls proved another attraction and were well patronized.

CHURCH DISCUSSES EDUCATION PLANS

B.C. Division of United Church Suggests Several Colleges in Canada

Vancouver, May 18.—Assertion at the British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada here yesterday that many of the younger members of the Church were changing their religion because of influences to which they were subjected at private schools conducted by other denominations was followed by a decision to lay a proposal to establish a co-educational theological college in every conference district before the national conference to be held in Montreal next month. Another request to be forwarded to the Dominion conference is that a crest be designed for the United Church.

Closing exercises of the conference were held last evening.

Final reports of the various committees and worship conducted by Rev. F. W. Hardy occupied the afternoon and morning sessions. The closing prayer was given by Principal W. H. Smith, and the conference adjourned.

MISSION DISCUSSIONS

The home missions committee met at 9:30 a.m. to-day to conclude its business.

Dr. John Pringle introduced an individual motion to reduce the number of home mission superintendents greatly, the burden of the work to be laid upon the presbyteries themselves. The motion was passed by a small majority.

Dr. J. S. Henderson read the resolutions as presented by the resolutions committee.

One of these was that the officials at Toronto be requested to send an exhibit of the best religious books in stock to the next conference in British Columbia.

Recommended by the Vancouver West Presbytery, a motion was passed that theological students be placed in charge of the presbytery in which the college exists for an annual examination to test individual character.

REMOVAL DATE

An attempt was made to fix a date on which the change of pastors could be brought about each year. July 1 was considered as the most advantageous time for the change to be brought about, as it would not interfere with the education of the ministers' children and would not bring about the assumption of duties during a busy time. It was decided finally to refer this matter to the settlement committee.

The report of the lay association was read by C. E. Mahon, W. E. Harper, Victoria, was chosen president.

Opposition to Change of Flag in Canada Voiced

Ottawa, May 18.—The management committee of the Canadian Historical Association, in its report, presented at the annual meeting of the association here yesterday, expressed "its strong disapproval of any attempt to substitute another flag for the Union Jack as the Canadian standard."

A motion to this effect was passed last Fall by the British Columbia Historical Association and copies of it were sent to all other provincial historical associations. The report of the management committee stated that "so far as replies have been received, the consensus of opinion appears to be in sympathy with that of the British Columbia Historical Association." The report added that it did not think it advisable to take any further action.

GOOD BUSINESS

THE REPORT GIVEN BY MR. C. P. W.
Schwengers, President of the Chamber of Commerce, of the fine success of the Canadian session in the recent annual conference of the Foreign Trade Council at Charlottetown should be very gratifying to Victorians. As James A. Farrell, president of the Council, pointed out in a letter of appreciation printed in The Times yesterday, the idea of a Canadian session originated with the head of the local Chamber, arising out of Victoria's representation at the gathering in San Francisco a few months ago, and it was Mr. Schwengers who organized the Canadian delegation of forty prominent businessmen who attended the Charlottetown meeting.

It was no easy task to make the necessary arrangements at the Canadian end. Notification of the Council's desire to have a session for Canada reached Victoria less than a month before the date of the Convention. For this reason some of the Canadian boards of trade were unable to provide for adequate representation. Other boards manifested a strange inability to appreciate the importance of this opportunity for the promotion of Canadian trade until Mr. Schwengers personally impressed it upon them, and only at the last minute decided to be represented at the meeting. The newly-organized Dominion Associated Boards of Trade, the logical body to take these preparations in hand, apparently did not feel that the project came within its scope of activities. The banks and railroad companies, however, were promptly and keenly alive to the importance of a Canadian session at what Roger Babson, the great economist, called a "forty-billion-dollar congress" and were ably represented.

The Canadian session was attended by 1,100 heads and executives of the largest industrial organizations in the United States, who were fully enlightened on Canada's progress and prospects by the excellent speeches delivered by the Canadian delegates, and who showed a close and friendly interest in the proceedings. They were visibly impressed with the candid way in which the speakers emphasized the unfairness of the American tariff against Canadian goods, and the Canadians present are confident that they enlisted a powerful influence south of the international boundary line in the interests of better treatment of this Dominion.

Victoria of course received most valuable publicity, both on account of the part it played in the organization of the Canadian session and from the activities at the gathering of President Schwengers and J. O. Cameron, the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. George I. Warren, who represented the Victoria Publicity Bureau. In no other way could this city have been brought so prominently to the notice of all the foremost captains of industry on this continent.

STRATHCONA PARK

IN DECIDING TO URGE THE PROVINcial Government to place a reserve on all the timber and other natural resources within the boundaries of Strathcona Park, so that the whole of that picturesque area may be preserved for the exclusive use of the general public and eventually converted into a revenue-producing tourist resort, the Tourist Trade Group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has taken a course which should be warmly approved by the people of Vancouver Island.

Strathcona Park is a natural park with most beautiful settings, and it will not be many years before development in various sections of the Island surrounding it will bring the area within easier access to the people of this district. It would be a thousand pities, however, if public policy were not so shaped as to protect all its natural attractions.

Vancouver Island's highway and scenic wonders are becoming widely known among the traveling public every year and there is an increasing desire, particularly for the motorist, to push on to the new scenes which he knows about farther north. With Strathcona Park more easily reached, therefore, the public treasury would be assured of considerable return. On this account alone it is to be hoped that the provincial Government will give the recommendation of the local Chamber of Commerce its sympathetic consideration.

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING

EIGHTY-SEVEN PER CENT. OF THE settlers who went on to farms under the control of the Soldier Settlement Board have made payments in the current collection period and eighty-three per cent. of the amount due has been collected. Of the $4,105,528 due there has been paid no less a sum than $3,404,703, while of the 17,331 settlers who had payments to make, 8,105 had paid in full and 6,957 had made substantial part payments. These figures form part of an encouraging statement just issued by the chairman of the Board.

Where paternalism can be avoided, especially when it is in the shape of any form of Government subsidy, it is usually better business to avoid it; but the settlement of former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force on the land of this country was a necessary undertaking that abnormal conditions justified. At the outset it was possible to regard it as good business if only for the reason that it meant rural development with its benefit to urban production. How successful it has been, however, is shown in the figures relating to the repayment of loans to which we have referred. These also indicate that the Department has made very few mistakes either in the selection of properties for settlement or in the selection of the men to operate them.

It is interesting to note that Prince Albert, which is one of the three district offices of Saskatchewan, is able to claim the distinction of having collected ninety-nine per cent. of the amount due on farms under its control. Saskatoon and Regina, moreover, make reports almost as good, the former showing that ninety-five per cent. of those who borrowed have paid and the latter ninety-four per cent. Altogether, therefore, the showing of the Board and those who have used its machinery is a very creditable one indeed.

RIPT IN THE LUTE?

WHEN THE NORGE REACHED
Teller, Alaska, Colonel Umberto Nobile sent a report of the voyage by radio to Mussolini in Rome. The Associated Press with characteristic enterprise distributed the report over its world-embracing system, which includes The Nugget, a newspaper published in Nome. Amundsen, who is at Nome, learned that a report of the trip had been received there via Rome, and expressed annoyance over the disclosure because he said it might conflict with the report he was sending out.

We have discovered one point of conflict. Colonel Nobile's report implies that he was the navigator and the way in which the airship weathered its difficulties was due to the "precautions I had taken." Amundsen's report says "Riser-Larsen brought the ship through in a most brilliant manner." It is just possible that right here we have the germ of a controversy which will be waged furiously for some time. It is also possible that a certain enterprising gentleman in Rome will settle the whole business by declaring that neither Amundsen nor Nobile is entitled to any credit for the trip of the Norge, but that he, Mussolini, stage-managed and produced the whole show, and the pole by right belongs to him.

HOW PROTECTION WORKS

HIGH PROTECTIONISTS, OR THOSE who find themselves in the ranks of the high protectionist party, often find considerable difficulty in justifying their own policies. The text of Mr. Winston Churchill's budget speech, for instance, reveals the Chancellor in somewhat of a dilemma. Note his observations on the customs duties on artificial silk:

The customs duties on artificial silk have been paid by the foreigner. (Loud Ministerial cheers). It is, however, my duty to admit that while the cost of the public has not been increased by the artificial silk tax, we have probably intercepted to a very large extent a production which would otherwise have reached the consumer.

Our high tariff friends at Ottawa, Mr. Meighen among them, of course, often tell us that it by no means follows that the protection of any industry necessarily means the articles enjoying the protection will cost the consumer more. It may be that, owing to exceptional circumstances, there is an isolated case now and then in which the consumer escapes; but the rule is that the consumer pays. Even Mr. Meighen will have to admit that Mr. Churchill—who used to be, and would no doubt still be if his political fortunes were not affected thereby, an ardent free trader—says the consumer pays; that is to say he told the House of Commons that, but for the tax, the consumer would have had to pay a lower price for artificial silk goods. This is only another way of saying that he would have had more money to spend on other articles as well.

The consequences are plain. The wage cheque is not increased every time a new duty is clamped on an article in demand. What happens is that the consumer does without other things which he would like to have and could otherwise afford. The sequel is less employment and what that means for the individual worker and the country at large.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE RUSSIAN DEBT

From The Moscow Inevitable

British statesmen have stubbornly ignored the declarations of the Soviet Government and its willingness to regulate the debt question, and notwithstanding the presence of diplomatic representatives in Moscow and London, the British Cabinet has not tried to ascertain the attitude of the Soviet Government on the debt claims. Unquestionably direct negotiations might enable both governments to learn each other's views.

FRENCH LANGUAGE IN CANADA

From Le Devoir

The very disagreeable, untimely and ill-founded reflection of Sir John Adams concerning our language provoked instant replies from Senator Belcourt and M. Montpetit. . . . Sir John Adams holds the opinion that our language is a dialect, that it is not the true French as spoken in France, but a language which dates from the time of Chaucer—an English poet who lived between the years 1340 and 1400. In that case our language would be a fifteen-century tongue and very far removed from the true French. There have been plenty of authors, both French and English, who, after having paid us a visit and studied our language in the country, have come to the conclusion that it is really French that we speak, though a few archaisms and Anglicisms have crept in. The "Parisian French" dear to the heart of Sir John Adams, barely exists over here, unless it be in Toronto.

SAANICH LIBERAL CONVENTION

To the Editor:—With reference to the Liberal Convention to be held in the Women's Institute Hall on Mari-gold Avenue at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday evening, May 19 at which all Saanich Liberals will be welcome irrespective of whether they belong to the association or not, as a candidate at that convention I have not had the opportunity of addressing the people on provincial questions owing to having been engaged in municipal duties.

I have intentionally refrained from making a personal canvass of the district with a view to pledging Liberals to vote for me at the convention, nor have I promised jobs or anything else to persons in return for their support at the convention, simply because I am not a supporter of machine politics, believing that the honor should seek the man and not the man the honor.

We should and must have in our political parties control by the rank and file who are the majority and not control by any minority which as a rule constitutes the machine. Members of Parliament should be sent to Parliament to represent the community to the best of their ability and while they are of course expected to recognize the general policies and principles of their party. They should not say to bow the knee to any machine.

Had we a little more of this spirit exhibited in Canada to-day we would not have the discontent which undoubtedly exists in all parties.

Without discussing the question at length I think I have made my position clear.

ROBT. MACNICOL.

Canadian Questions and Answers

THE NEW WELLAND CANAL

Q.—What is the cost of the New Welland Canal?

A.—The cost of the New Welland Canal will probably exceed $100,000,000. The total cost up to December 1, 1925 was $40,575,575 and it is estimated that another $50,000,000 will be needed to complete it, which will take a few more years. It contains some of the largest locks and masonry walls in the world. When completed it will be the third canal to connect Lake Erie and Lake Ontario.

QUEBEC HOUSE

Q.—What and where is Quebec House?

A.—Quebec House is a famous old residence in Westchester, England, which is owned by J. R. Learmont of Quebec, Canada. It was once the home of General Wolfe. Mrs. Learmont is now making the offer of Quebec House as a residence of the Canadian Archivist, and his archives for Canadian material. Wolfe spent his boyhood and youth in this home and a monument to his memory stands in the picturesque old town in Kent.

LITERARY NOTES

The great army of readers that marched daily from the beginning to the end of "The Broad Highway" will no doubt proceed to "The High Adventure," another super-romance by Jeffery Farnol (The Ryerson Press, Toronto). In spite of the fact that the plot of this story is fairly simple with improbability, there is so much glitter and dash about it that even a hardened realist perseveres until he can hear the distant chime of wedding bells. It is scarcely necessary to say that Mr. Farnol takes good care to endow the ill-fated but food-hearted hero with a powerful physique and such skill in boxing that he is able to win out in a prize fight against England's pet cruiser.

Mr. Farnol's ability to tell a story to the taste of tens of thousands of readers is partly explained as the result of early environment. His father was in the habit of reading aloud from favorite books of fiction to Mrs. Farnol while she sewed, after the children—Jeffery and his younger brother, Edward, who fell in the Boer War—had been put to bed. Jeffery, though he was only eight, wanted to listen, too. He tells us that he remembers himself and his brother, long after they had been sent to bed, sitting in their night-shirts outside the door of the room where his father was reading from "The Count of Monte Cristo" to his mother, busy with her needle. There the two little shavers sat, intent upon the thrilling narrative, while their father, all unconscious of his enlarged audience, read on until the presence of the transients from bed was betrayed by an inopportune sneeze. No doubt the immediate result was that both were bundled off to bed again—impatiently, but thereafter they were admitted for an extra hour to the evening readings.

Joseph Pennell, the famous illustrator, he who produced so many wonderful etchings of English and French cathedrals, died in New York a few days ago. Mr. Pennell died at a ripe old age, and it is fortunate for the lovers of art and literature that he was induced to write his reminiscences a year or so ago. His memory was unimpaired and he recalled with singular vividness episodes and conversations in London back in the nineties. In one of the stories in his book, "The Adventures of an Illustrator," Mr. Pennell tells of the founding of "The London Star," with T. P. O'Connor as its editor, "George Bernard Shaw," says Mr. Pennell, "was the art critic. I suppose it was writing on art that gave him the idea that he was an authority on the subject, but to this day he doesn't know the difference between a photograph and a painting, though he prefers the photograph, and all his art notions are based on the photograph, as his art writings prove. He did not keep to art criticism long—there was not enough advertisement in it for him, so he went in for music, calling himself 'Corno di Bassetto'—for, as he said, he was going to blow his own horn until it was heard. I then became Artist Unknown and, over that name, which I used, wrote my opinions. Shaw got me the post—I think I was the only artist he knew—but I succeeded in getting rather well known and in and out of endless scrapes. From a threatened libel action with the family of Marie Bashkirtseff to a threatened thrashing by Walter Crane. Neither, however, came off."

The contrast between the sea and the mountains is a favorite one, and has often been made," says P. H. Lee, in his prose-and-verse anthology, "The Lure of the Sea." He goes on to make such a contrast in what is really a beautiful prose poem. "The mountains give their lost children berries and water; the sea mocks their thirst and lets them die. The mountains have a grand, stupid, lovable tranquillity; the sea has a fascinating, treacherous intelligence. The mountains dwarf mankind and foreshorten the processions of all long generations. The sea drowns out humanity all time, and has no sympathy with either; for it belongs to eternity and of that it sings its monotonous song forever and forever."

Some colleges are extremely lucky. Sylvia Thompson, author of "The Hamilton, Ont.—For over three years I suffered with severe nervous headaches. When I would get these spells I would have to give up and go to bed. They would occur about every two weeks. I tried everything I heard of but got no relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the "Pleasant Pellets." By the time I had taken two bottles I found a wonderful improvement, and four bottles overcame the trouble. I have never since suffered from headaches of any sort.—Mrs. J. W. Thrush, 41 Margaret St.

Special to The Times
Saanichton, May 15.—The pioneers of Saanichton held a meeting in the Agricultural Hall on Saturday evening, when the main business was arranging for the annual picnic. After some discussion it was decided to hold it on June 3, and if permission is obtained it will take place at the Experimental Farm. The picnic will be a basket picnic and all old timers and their families and friends are cordially invited to be present.

Miss Evelyn Nimmo, of Prosser Road, is visiting relatives and friends at Ladysmith.

Mr. N. Gray, of Saanichton, is in Vancouver attending the annual conference of the United Churches.

Among the "Specimens of Irish Wit" is the pithy reply of the driver of a jaunty car to a passenger who had made an impatient remark about the time he was taking to wrap himself up: "Yes, in truth, sir, what's all the wulroid to a man whose wife's a widow?"

WOMAN KIDNAPPED BY FORMER HUSBAND

Washington Woman Was Held Prisoner in Deserted Logging Camp

Olympia, Wash., May 18.—Kidnapped at the point of a gun by Anton Fredericksen, her divorced husband, and held prisoner by him for three days in a deserted logging camp on Hood's Canal under threat of death unless she consented to marry him, as she reported to the Olympia police, May Maschinenheier, proprietress of a gasoline service station at Sequim, managed to elude the vigilance of her captor yesterday long enough to get word to Chief of Police C. D. Pilling, and have Fredericksen arrested. Fredericksen is being held for Chatham County authorities.

Waving and Curling Dries Life from Hair

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Dandarine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 25-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandarine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

KING'S DAUGHTERS CARRY OUT FINE WORK FOR NEEDY

Annual Reports of District Presented Last Night; Mrs. L. H. Hardie President

Mrs. L. H. Hardie was elected president of the King's Daughters at the annual meeting held last evening, succeeding Mrs. R. R. Playfair who resigned the presidency after a year of faithful service. Other officers include Mrs. Watson, vice-president; Mrs. James Stewart, treasurer; and Miss Kathleen Roberts, district secretary.

In her valedictory address, Mrs. Playfair reviewed the work of the year accomplished in the Victoria district, the membership of the circles totaling 137, and the finances raised by various means amounting to $2,044.44. She paid warm tribute to the work of the various officers, and to the press for assistance rendered in the order's work.

MAGNIFICENT WORK

Working quietly and with but little advertisement, the circles have accomplished a splendid community service throughout the year. The Ready-to-Help Circle, according to the report presented by Mrs. Haynes, donated three dozen serviettes, eighteen traycloths, one dozen bedside tablecloths, three bureau scarves and three flannel hospital shirts to the King's Daughters Hospital at Duncan; twelve dresses and twenty-two pairs of bloomers to the V.O.N.; dresses, bloomers, jerseys, stockings, nightgowns and a quilt to the Protestant Orphanage; six layettes to the Jubilee Hospital, as well as making, from material supplied by the hospital, 255 dresses, twenty-four bandages and thirty-six wet water bottle covers; made for the Solarium, twelve dozen pillow cases and towels. One member also gave hot dinners to poor families brought to her notice through the V.O.N.

CARE OF THE HELPLESS

In addition to its local charitable work, the Hawthorne Circle donated linen on two occasions to the Duncan Hospital; gave generous cash donations to Social Service, and also paid for a child to have a week's holiday at the summer camp; gave a cash contribution towards a radio for the Tranville Sanatorium, and outfitted children of several needy families; made and donated three nightdresses to an expectant mother, supplied Christmas cheer to several families and provided a hospital bed for the W.C.T.U. Home.

MANY CAUSES ASSISTED

Mrs. Watson presented the report of the ministerial circle. This circle has assisted many individual causes made donations to the Orphanage, the Solarium, Travelers' Aid, Duncan Hospital, V.O.N., Salvation Army; Friendly Help and other causes. Beside tables and chairs, hospital nightshirts, traycloths, serviettes and table covers have been sent to the King's Daughters Hospital. Sewing for the orphanage included fourteen pinfuses, sixteen scarves and two nightgowns, as well as a cash donation.

Mrs. Hardie presented the report of the King's Daughters Hospital at Duncan, giving an account of the linen shower held recently.

For the restroom in the Hilben-Bone Building, which is maintained by the order for the benefit of business girls, Mrs. J. Stewart reported that the finances were in sound condition.

The meeting decided to send $25 towards the fund of the Convalescent Home in Vancouver, as an expression of goodwill from the Victoria District branch.

Mrs. Allan, Mrs. Shiner and Miss James were welcomed into the order. Mrs. L. H. Hardie conducting the consecration service.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

SECOND SUMMER WEANING

To Mrs. S. J.

As soon as hot weather shows its face, mothers everywhere begin to worry about second summer weaning and reiterate all the old bugaboos about not weaning the baby in the summer, etc.

One mother, whose letter stands before me, is still nursing her fifteen-month-old baby, who is underweight and wakes up three times at night to be fed, all because her aunt and her mother are sure that nothing but trouble will result if she weans the baby until summer is over. Her sister's baby is a big, fat, healthy all-night-sleeping infant and he weaned at the proper time, nine months, but even this evidence doesn't quite satisfy this other mother.

There must be some good reasons why all doctors and specialists insist that a baby should be weaned at nine months of age, no matter how successful a nurse the mother thinks herself to be. And the reason is

Many local friends will be interested in the following account of the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ealey of Windhorst, parents of Mrs. A. Dab, of 550 Harbinger Avenue. "A unique event in the history of the district was the celebration last week of the diamond wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ealey. The occasion was also the reunion of members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Ealey were married at Cherhill, Wiltshire, England, sixty years ago April 21. They came to Canada in 1888 with their family and settled in the Hilsden district north of Windhorst, where they farmed until five years ago, since when the aged couple have lived in town. Mrs. Ealey is eighty-three years old and Mr. Ealey will reach eighty two in a few days. Many friends called during the week to offer their congratulations and good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Ealey. There were eight children, one of whom, Frank, died about three years ago at Hilsden. One son resides in England while the other children are: W. J. Ealey, Windhorst; Mrs. A. Dab, Victoria; Mrs. Evans, Calgary; Mrs. Winters, Yellow Grass; Mrs. C. Hood, Winnipeg; and Mrs. J. E. Brown, Windhorst. The family comprises, sixty-four descendants living, seven children, thirty-seven grandchildren and twenty great grandchildren. The children presented several gifts to their parents. During the day Mr. and Mrs. Ealey were reminiscent of their pioneering in the district, recalling the time when they opened Hilsden post office and their trips to Broadview, which was their nearest railway town. NO DANCES, SMOKES OR ROUGE—SHE'S HAPPY

Would you believe that there's still a girl who: Has never danced or been to a theatre? Has never used powder, lipstick or rouge, or bobbed her hair? Has never sipped a cocktail, smoked a cigarette, played cards or spooned?

Well, there is. There's Miss Florence Kelso, Salvation Army lass of Seattle.

And, to top it all, she says she never has any desire for short skirts, satin slippers, chiffon hose, silk frocks or gigolo hats.

She doesn't even know what a gigolo hat is!

"I'm perfectly happy," she says. "I tried wearing a friend's pretty frock at a party once. It was so uncomfortable I took it off and got back into my uniform."

Miss Kelso was "born into the army" and has spent all her life in its atmosphere.

And—oh, yes—she's been kissed!

"We have our boy friends, you know," she adds shyly.

The Girl Guides' garden party which will take place on June 5 in the grounds of Government House, by kind permission of his Honor the Lieut.-Governor, promises to be the best yet held by them, judging by the reports of convivers heard last evening at the meeting of the local association of Girl Guides. Mrs. L. A. Genge, who is in charge of general arrangements, gave an outline of a very attractive programme, which includes displays of Guide drills and games, and a number of novel and interesting side-shows. Further plans will be discussed at the next meeting of the association on May 31 at the Hamley Building.

TILLICUM COMPANY

The Tillicum Company of Girl Guides gave a very successful concert at their headquarters, the chief attraction of the programme being a play, entitled "Yolande, the Squire."

Rowles, head of the Victoria Boys' Band and F. Merryfield, kept the audience in a state of keen amusement and excitement by their clever work as acrobat and conjuror respectively.

Mr. Hunter made an impressive appeal to those present to support the work of the society and to encourage kindness to animals, and the evening was brought to a close by the serving of refreshments.

The society is deeply indebted to all those friends who contributed to the success of the evening, which was the closing event of the annual recognition of Animal Week.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and the Lost Bird

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

During the night it had rained, and the wind had blown. Uncle Wiggly, snug in his hollow stump bungalow,
had heard the drops of water pattering on his roof, but he had turned sleepily over in bed, murmuring:
"Let it rain! I have mended the leak in my roof and no water can dribble in!"

And when the branches of the trees tossed to and fro and the wind whistled through the leaves, the rabbit gentleman turned over again in his snug, warm bed and murmured:
"Let it blow! My stump bungalow is firm and fast in the ground. It cannot be carried away by the wind!"

In the morning the rabbit gentleman twinkled his pink nose, ate his breakfast of carrot pancakes, with maple sugar sauce sprinkled down
the middle, and hoped forth to have an adventure. The rain was over, there was no more wind and the sun was shining. But Uncle Wiggly had not gone far on his way before he saw many things that the night storm had done.

Leaves were torn off the trees and bushes and many branches were broken. In places little brooks had become big brooks because of so much rain and had overflowed their banks, spreading mud over the green grass and on the paths. Flowers were broken and lay dragging on the ground.

"While I was snug in my bed," thought the rabbit gentleman, "the storm was causing much trouble. I hope none of the animal boys or girls were washed away in the night."

His own forty-seven little bunnies were safe and had gone to the hollow stump school. And when Uncle
Wiggly saw Joannie and Billie Bushytail, Jackie and Peetle Bow

I am a little lost bird.

Wow, Joie, Tommie and Kittle Kat, and many others whom he knew,
hurry along as the school bell rang. Mr. Longears said to himself:

"I guess every one is all right. It was a bad storm, but no one was harmful. And just then, as he hopped through a little clump of trees and bushes the rabbit gentleman heard a sad little voice crying:

"Peep! Peep! Peep!"
"Who are you and what is the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"I am the little lost bird," was the answer. "Last night when the wind blew and the rain came down, I fell out of my nest because the tree, in which it was, bent low in the blast.
Now I don't know how to get back."

"It will help you back into the nest," kindly offered Uncle Wiggly.
"If you will tell me out of which nest you are lost."

"That I don't know," said the little bird, who had but a few feathers.
He was wet, cold and shivering, so Uncle Wiggly picked him up off the ground and held him in his warm paws.

"You don't know from which nest
you fell?" cried the rabbit gentleman in surprise. "Why, how is that?"

"There are so many trees here in the wood," peeped the little lost bird, "that I don't know which one held my nest."

"Well, are you a robin, a blue jay,
a sparrow, a thrush, a wren or what are you?" asked the bunny.

"I don't know, I'm sure," said the lost bird. "Can't you tell?"

Uncle Wiggly shook his pink nose.
"If you had a few more feathers on I could," said the rabbit. "I could tell whether you were a robin, a wren or a blue jay. But you are such a tiny chap—just hatched. Oh, but wait! Tell me what color egg you came out of and I can tell what kind of a bird you are. What was the color of your egg?"

"That I never noticed," peeped the lost bird. "Well, I know where there are many nests," went on Uncle Wiggly,
"but if you are a wren I don't want to put you in a blue jay's nest, and if you are a thrush, you don't belong in a sparrow's nest. Let me see!"

He looked more closely at the little bird and saw sticking to a tiny feather, a bit of blue egg shell.

"Ha!" cried the rabbit. "Now I know you came from a robin's blue egg! I know where the daddy and mother robins built their nest. I will lift you back into it!" Which he did, and the father and mother robin were very glad to get back the little lost bird, for whom they had been searching all over.

"Thank you! Cheer up! Cheer up," sang the daddy robin, while the mother gave the little bird his breakfast. Then the bunny happily twinkled his pink nose and he was well. And if the back door doesn't come and sit on the front porch when the mosquitoes are trying to tag the milkman, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's red lantern.

League Council Plan Displeases China's Delegate

Geneva, May 18.—A last moment controversy precipitated by China yesterday because of the decision for the allocation of three non-permanent seats in the Council of the League of Nations to Latin America without specifying how many seats would go to Asia, threatened to nullify the results already achieved by the commission for the reorganization of the Council.

Dr. Chu of China declared it was discriminatory to parcel out seats to Latin America. The Chinese delegates asked that two seats should be given to "other parts of the world not comprised of America and Europe."

After adopting the first reading of the regulations concerning the reorganization of non-permanent memberships, the commission adjourned until June 28.

The report recommends that the non-permanent members be increased from six to nine and declares these nine shall be elected as soon as possible at the next assembly. In League circles it is felt Brazil and Spain, who have been insistent candidates for permanent seats, may thus cease to be members of the council early in September.

Cinder Track Will Help Athletes In Attack On Records

High School Students Will Hold Annual Sports To-morrow on New Track

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor Will Attend; Record Crowd Expected to be on Hand

Close to a thousand students and probably twice as many admiring parents will be at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon to witness the annual track and field meet of the Victoria High School. The opening event is timed for 2 o'clock.

For the first time in many years a cinder track will be available for the sprinters and distance runners. In recent years, since the old Oak Bay track was allowed to fall into the discard, the school sports have been held on the dirt track at the Willows. Owing to the fact that the sprinters there were run up a slight decline and the distance men had a long "pull" on the home stretch records did not fall very often. To-morrow, however, the athletes will be stepping on a new cinder track, which, although not well packed as yet, is fairly good shape and the banked-turned, will help them considerably, especially in the furlong and two-furlong dashes.

WILL FAVOR SPECTATORS

The accommodation for the spectators will also be better than at the Willows. They will be able to sit right over the athletes and watch them pass beneath. At the Willows one almost needed glasses to distinguish the boys and girls as they raced and jumped.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor has expressed a desire to see the youthful athletes in action and he will attend the sports. The attendance of the Lieut.-Governor is greatly appreciated by the High School staff.

The High School is very proud of the athletes who are carrying the black and gold colors this year. Victories during the Winter, especially in the Thompson Cup rugby series, have sport at the great reputation and the students entered the training for their annual sports with greater zest than ever this Spring. It is expected in every quarter that records will totter and that the athletes to their marks to-morrow.

SIX CHAMPIONSHIPS

Although a very lengthy programme of events has been arranged the six main championships at stake will be the senior, intermediate and junior for baseball, basketball, basketball, basketball, basketball, basketball. PIGEON RACING

The race held by the Victoria Pigeon Racing Club on May 15 from Salem, Oregon, an air line of 250 miles, was won by a yearling, and an outstanding one at that. Margaret, a little hen, captured her second race this season, and Mr. Dickinson is to be congratulated on having a bird able to perform such a wonderful feat.

Mr. Dickinson won the nomination pool, also the special donated by Steve Macdonald. Mr. Grimston again won the novice prize—a pair of young birds donated by Fred Smith of the Vancouver club.

SONS OF CANADA TO OPEN GUTTED GAME IN SYDNEY TO-NIGHT

Lacrosse will open this evening when the Sons of Canada and Sydney meet on the latter's grounds at 8:15 o'clock.

This will be an intermediate fixture and a team tussle is looked for.

In order that lacrosse may be brought back to popular favor a strong hand will be kept on the sidelines this year. Leonard Tait, president of the Victoria and District Lacrosse League, is determined to see the boys play the ball and pay less attention to the man.

Swimming Club At Curtis Point Will Get Under Way Soon

W. S. Maguire to Give Swimming Lessons to School Children in Y.M.C.A. Tank

Swimming instruction to public school children was given by W. S. Maguire of the Y.M.C.A. at the Curtis Point pool for the first time. The class commenced at 3:45 o'clock and the boys at 4:15 o'clock. Already twenty-five children have signified their intention of attending the classes. By special arrangement adults may receive instructions during the day.

Travelers Even Things With Win Over Eagles' Nine

Thirteen Hits For Nine Runs Were Plenty to Beat Out Feathered Boys

Jack Noble in Good Form For Travelers; Poor Support For Percy Ross

Won. Lost. Pct.
Sons of Canada 1 0 1.000
Travelers 1 1 .500
Eagles 1 1 .500

By defeating the Eagles 9-1, at the Royal Athletic Park last night in the second scheduled game of the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League, the United Commercial Travelers' nine jumped into second place in the league standing. The Sons of Canada, due to their win in the opener on Saturday, are in the premier berth, while the Eagles occupy the cellar position.

The Travelers were winners all the way last night and Jack Noble, their twirler, was rarely menaced after the first inning when the Eagles batted out two hits for three runs. Jack pitched good ball and had eight strikeouts to his credit. He was only touched for four safeties.

Percy Ross, on the mound for the Eagles also had lots of stuff behind his pegs, but his teammates let him down considerably, no less than three errors being chalked up against them. Six of the travelers whiffed before Percy's curves, but, on the other hand, Bill Moore tickled him for a homerun, and Jack Noble lifted one of his fast ones for three bases. Ross allowed thirteen safe hits.

ONE FOR EAGLES
The Eagles started well. Outman, the first man up, got to first on his grounder to the left. Kerr was out on a fly, but Givens replied with a two-bagger to the centre and Outman stroled home. Hall and Pasmore fanned.

It was the second inning before the Eagles got settled down, but they sure hit a fast gait when they landed. Noble's triple scored Cottet and he himself arrived safely when Kerr singled. Turpel was safe on second when his grounder was booted, but the scoring had finished.

The Travelers continued right along, and although none of them managed to get the ball in the fourth inning, runs were registered in third, fifth and sixth innings.

HOMER FOR MOORE
With Bowden on second base in the fifth, Moore grabbed his hefty bat and took a mighty swing at one of Ross's steamers, and the ball went sailing over the centre field fence.

In the sixth, the Travelers enjoyed themselves immensely. Five hits and an error gave them three runs, and absolutely wiped away all vestige of doubts, that any of the fans may have entertained about them winning the ball game.

Kerr commenced operations with a single to the left. Turpel followed up with a clout good enough to land him at second, scoring Kerr. He romped home with another tally when Peterstone cracked out a single. Campbell and Bowden contributed a safety each toward the final run. Peterstone putting the finishing touches to the scoring as he crossed the rubber on the latter's hit.

Not one of the Eagles managed to reach first safely in the latter half of the ninth.

The game ended here, visibility being poor.

Batting honors were evenly divided. Turpel did best. Bill collected three singles in four trips to the plate. Colin Campbell, of the National, cracked back hit 566. These boys grabbed two safe hits in three tries.

CECIL LEITCH AND GLENNA COLLETT ARE OUTSTANDING FIGURES IN WOMEN'S TOURNEY

Left to right: Cecil Leitch and Glenna Collett; inset, closeup of Miss Collett; in background, Joyce Wethered, 1925 winner.

As was the case last year, America's hopes for success in the coming British women's golf tournament rest on Glenna Collett, national and French champion.

It will be recalled that in 1925 Glenna invaded the playground of her British sisters for the first time. And, much to the surprise of her many admirers, met defeat in one of the early rounds.

The sensational Joyce Wethered was the Providence princess' conqueror on that occasion. But losing to Miss Wethered was no disgrace, the talented British girl being recognized in all golfing circles as one of the greatest pastimers the fair sex field has ever produced.

OLD NEMESIS OUT
This year Glenna won't have Miss Wethered to contend with, for the simple and perfectly good reason Miss Wethered will not be entered in the classic.

Instead, the American queen will be obliged to combat another of England's stars, Cecil Leitch. Miss Leitch rates almost on a par with Joyce Wethered, the two having had things pretty much their own way across the past for the last few years. In the 1925 championship it was Cecil Leitch who carried Miss Wethered to the 27th hole before acknowledging defeat. The clash, as you'll recall, was for the title.

Glenna will no doubt find a tough competitor in a seventeen-year-old French maiden, too, Miss Simon De La Chaume. This slip of a lass has come to the front rapidly and many experts over in England figure her to cause plenty of trouble in the get-together, which, by the way, will be played at Harlech, Wales, this month.

Just a few days ago Miss De La Chaume, with a half stroke handicap, defeated W. A. Murray, member of the British Walker cup team and a really proficient pastime, two up. The victory, obviously, boosted her stock considerably in the Harlech carnival.

A few other American girls are expected to enter the competition. But it will be virtually up to the little lady from Providence to cop the laurels, providing a performer from America is to turn the trick.

As most every knows, the British women's tournament is one of the biggest events of the fair sex golfing season. It was inaugurated in 1893. It has been held every year since with the exception of the 1915-1919 period when the World War caused the links pastime to be tossed into the background.

SOFT-BALL

Nine fixtures have been arranged for the opening of the softball league season this evening. Four of these will be in "A" section and the remainder in "B" section. The games will commence at 8:30 sharp.

"A" section games will be as follows:
Foul Bay vs. Sons of England, at Foul Bay.
Hillcrest vs. Esquimalt, at Macaulay Point.
Navy vs. Tillicums, at Canteen Grounds.
Y.M.C.A. "A" vs. Onwages, at Central Park.

In the "B" section the games will be:
Andrews vs. Wilson Bros., at Beacon Hill.
Cameron Lumber Company vs. Lemon-Gonness Lumber Company, at Victoria West Park.
Y.M.C.A. "B" vs. Bryant's Bluebirds, at Central Park.
Normal School vs. B.A. Paint Company, at Normal School.
Pimley & Hulse vs. Harris & Smith, at Beacon Hill cricket ground.
The Hudson's Bay, a bye.

LADIES ORGANIZE LACROSSE TEAM AT MEETING TOMORROW

In an effort to organize a ladies' lacrosse team a meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Leonard Tait, president of the Victoria and District Lacrosse League, who is fostering the move to have a ladies' team here, issues a call to all young ladies interested in the game to turn out.

It is expected that a ladies' lacrosse team from California, where the game thrives, will be in Vancouver early in July, and Mr. Tait hopes to make arrangements to have the team visit Victoria and play a game against the pride of this city.

Superb Bowling By Haig Keeps Score Of Australians Down

Woodful, Who Has Made Two Centuries so Far in England, Fails to Score

London, May 18.—Ten thousand spectators gathered at Lord's yesterday, among them the Prince of Wales, to see the visiting Australian cricketers resume batting against the Marylebone Cricket Club.

Macartney was brilliant and hit five boundaries en route to the six-run score which stood to his credit before Franklin caught him out of his ground.

Oldfield and Mailey both were dismissed at 21 runs each. Oldfield fell to a catch by the M.C.C. skipper, Carr, off Haig's bowling, and Mailey succumbed to a catch behind the wicket by Franklin off Haig. Barclay added a few more runs but was rapidly dismissed, and the way was paved for a fine partnership by Collins and Macartney. They batted steadily and added 82 runs in fifty-five minutes when Collins' stumps were taken by Astill.

GOT A DUCK EGG
Woodful entered on the scene, and it was expected that this hard-slugging Victorian would stay with Macartney. Woodful had become famous for his centuries—216 against Essex and 111 against Surrey. The crowd gasped when Haig, not his wicket beautifully and Woodful was returned to the pavilion with a duck egg.

Taylor, another powerful run-getter, whose two turnouts against Hampshire and Surrey had seen him break over the 70 mark, fell to Falkenstein, who bowled him out. Ponsford and Ryder restored the Australians' hopes and they staged a good rally, with Ponsford standing at the not out mark. The stumps were drawn. Ryder fell to Haig and paved the way for Gregory.

Kennedy caught him off Astill's bowling when the Australian had arrived at the 30 point. With a few minutes to play, Richardson, the last of the team, went to bat, but had not begun to score when the day was called.

Ponsford and Richardson resume to-day for the Australians.

NAMES TEAM PLAYERS
To the Sports Editor:—After watching rep teams play I think the following would make a good team to oppose the English eleven: Shrimpton (Hudson's Bay) goal; Campbell (Vets.) right back; Glancy (Kirkhams) left back; McKinnon (R. & T.) right half; Preston (Vets.) centre half; Bouchon (Vets.) left half; Cameron (Vets.) goal; right; J. Watt (Esq.) inside right; Coulter (Services) centre; Hay (Esq.) inside left and Clarkson (Vets.) outside left. Reserves: Bridges (Vets.) White (Services), Shanks (S.O.E.), Cummings (Services), T. Watt and Warren (Esq.). I admit it is hard to choose a rep team to please the public, but I think that every man qualified should be given a chance.

H. M. BARBER
Joyce Wethered is not going to compete in the 1926 British women's golf championship. Which probably explains why so many American players are entering that tournament this year.

Old John Quinn Is Waving His Right Arm Effectively

Pitches Philadelphia Athletics to Another Win at 41 Years of Age

Yankees and St. Louis Continue Winning Streaks; Cincinnati Stopped

New York, May 18.—Old John Quinn piques of Hazelton, Pa., or Jack Quinn, as he is known in baseball, continues on his youthful pitching way for the Philadelphia Athletics after forty-one years of life and twenty-three years in the professional game.

Many pitchers went to various major league mounds yesterday, but none was so successful as this big right-hander.

Yesterday Quinn allowed the Detroit Tigers six hits, three of them coming in the ninth inning for his victim's only run, and he won five to one, because his mates pounded Stoner for five runs in the opening game.

YANKEES STILL WINNING
New York Yankees, meanwhile, carried their second winning streak of the season to six straight, beating the Chicago White Sox five to three.

Cleveland's Gardner nineteen hits off Washington and won 12 to 5. Cincinnati's winning streak was halted at six games by the New York Giants, who won 7-4, scoring four runs in the eighth.

Pittsburgh defeated Brooklyn in twelve innings, 7-4. Chicago Cubs won a victory over Philadelphia 7-4. The Cardinals annexed their sixth straight conquest with the Boston Braves the victims, 8-5. Jim Bateman, leader among the National League home-run hitters, scored his seventh home of the season.

"KING ON MAIN STREET" IS VEHICLE FOR ADOLPHE MENJOU

The King on Main Street, Monta Bell's first production for Paramount, which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, is the latest photoplay from the studio of the popular Adolphe Menjou. Menjou, starred in the picture, is supported by Greta Nissen and Bessie Love, both featured in the screen version of Leo Dittichstein's successful stage play, "The King".

As Serge IV of the little European kingdom of Molvania, Menjou is advised by his ministers that a loan is necessary to save the country. Making his choice between marriage and a trip to America, the king arrives in New York "all set to break a few more hearts. A group of financiers are waiting him to discuss a proposed loan. Bored by it all, the king slips "out" and boards a bus marked Coney Island. The turnstiles and gay amusements stump him until he meets a typical American youngster, who introduces him to everything on the island.

Following this, he is invited to spend a week-end in Little Falls as the guest of a young "go-getter." Here he meets a beautiful young girl (Bessie Love). A clean little romance springs up—something the king had never before experienced in his beauty-starved life. However, the romance is discovered and the wrong interpretation put on it.

Drama and thrills pile up in the situations that now develop, with, however, the note of romantic comedy ever dominant. Eventually the king saves the girl's reputation and unites her with her young fiancé at the cost of signing away his own happiness in the off years.

In an unusual climax, Menjou turns from it all and goes back to his "kingdom".

The opening and final scenes of "The King on Main Street," showing a gorgeous dress review of the Molvanian troops, are done in natural colors.

"HEAVY FOOTERS" ARE AT THEIR BEST IN "THE SPEED SPOOK"

The sport world is one of the most prolific sources for the coming of new words, which usually manage to find favor among its enthusiasts. In the parlance of auto races, a "heavy footer" is a driver who presses the accelerator right down to the hilt and gives his car all the gas it can stand. These drivers are also termed "front riders," since they are continually up with the leaders and refuse to drop back until they are forced to their pits on account of engine or tire trouble.

In "The Speed Spook" feature attraction now showing at the Columbia Theatre, featuring Johnny Hines, one will be able to view exactly what is meant by a "heavy footer," for the picture just teems with the greatest automobile races in the history of the sport. The racing sequences of "The Speed Spook" were taken last June at the Altona Speedway during the running of the international 250-mile championship.

In which the greatest of speed kings were entered. Among the front riders, patrons of the Columbia will view such racing celebrities as Jimmy Murphy, Ira Vail, Tommy Milton, Peter De Paulo, a nephew of the celebrated Ralph De Palma; Harry Harts, Jerry Wunderlich, Fred Comer, Benny Hill, and others. These "heavy footers" are seen continually in the front, and what is most exciting of all, the picture will show these intrepid drivers going at the rate of 114 miles per hour, which constitutes a new world's record.

FAVORITE MUSIC PLAYED IN STUDIO WHILE STAR ACTS

Stars have favorite musical compositions which they like to have played while they are enacting certain difficult emotional scenes. During the filming of "His Jazz Bride," starring Marie Prevost and Matt Moore, Miss Prevost had the novel sensation of "emoting" to her old favorites played in a unique fashion.

Sol Hoppi, master of the steel guitar and his Hawaiian orchestra, consisting of two ukuleles and another guitar, interpreted her several favorites into the "Hawaiian mood." This was a change from the usual studio orchestra consisting of a violin, a cello, and an organ. Director Herman Raymaker declares that the welcome variety not only enabled the performers to give a finer performance than usual but pepped up the technical crew as well.

For sad and tearful scenes Miss Prevost's favorites are "Just a Wearying for You" and "Prayer," from the opera, "Faust," by Gounod. "The Indian Love Call" satisfies her for lighter scenes, and for gay and mirthful portrayals any good popular Spanish or Hawaiian music suffices. When asked how she liked the innovation, Miss Prevost said that she thought it just the thing for a picture of the type of "His Jazz Bride," which required an orchestra with lots of pep. Another orchestra of the modern jazz variety of seven pieces appears in the picture in the revels on the doomed pleasure boat. Since she played in "The Moonlight Follies" three years ago, Miss Prevost has never worked without an orchestra.

"His Jazz Bride" was adapted to the screen by Charles Logue from "The Flapper Wife," written by Beatrice Burton, and showing this week at the Playhouse.

NEW OUTDOOR FILM PICTURES WEST OF TO-DAY

To those doubting Thomases, who believe that all western productions are cast from the same mold and are, therefore, as alike as the proverbial peas, we recommend a visit to the Dominion Theatre, where "The Enchanted Hill" is now playing.

This picture, adapted from Peter R. Kyne's latest novel, not only blows a new trail in outdoor photoplays, being possessed of a plot that develops along novel and original lines, but it is as modern and up-to-date as the newest Paris gown, dealing as it does with the West of to-day and employing such startling innovations as aeroplanes and machine guns.

A story of action, romance, mystery and intrigue is "The Enchanted Hill," which gets its title from the fact that the ranch house, around which the action centres, has been built on a very high hill commanding a magnificent view of the country for miles around.

The central character is Lee Purdy, a bold, brave and romantic ex-army aviator, who comes to New Mexico, buys a cattle ranch and makes two discoveries. The first is that Gail Ormsby, owner of the adjoining ranch, is just about the most beautiful girl he has ever laid eyes on, and second, that for some mysterious reason, a gang of raiders are very anxious to get rid of him and get control of his land.

Lee's fight to hold his property and his efforts to win the lovely Gail provide no end of excitement and not a little fun. It is spirited entertainment all the way through, helped along by the skillful playing of a stellar cast that includes Jack Holt, Florence Vidor, Noah Beery and Mary Brian. Irvin Willat, who directed, deserves a large share of the credit, and a word of praise is also in order for James Hamilton, the scenarist, and Al Gilks, the cameraman.

B.C. COMEDY CAUSES MUCH LAUGHTER

"So This Is Canada" Opens at Royal Victoria; Comedy of Ranch Life

Written by a resident of the Okanagan, "So This Is Canada," which opened a week's run at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening, is an amusing comedy. It revolves around the adventures of three ex-service men who come out from the Old Country to start fruit-farming, and of whom it might well be said that they "roll not neither do they spin."

In the trio is an Englishman, an Irishman and a Scotsman, partners in the Resthope Ranch, Okanagan, and the play opens at a time when they are at the end of their financial tether. Work does not enter into their scheme at all, but they rely upon the generosity of wealthy relatives in England for the wherewithal to live.

One of the main sources of supply is Lady Alice Wainfield, the "dear Auntie Alice" of the Scotsman, Capt. Jim Latimer. Auntie Alice is a sort of community-owned relative, and to assist in relieving her of frequent donations to the ranch each of the trio composes letters to her, painting in glowing colors the progress of the venture. So enthusiastic are the letter-writers that Auntie Alice is led to believe that the ranchers have succeeded beyond the most optimistic hopes, that the ranch has grown to 20,000 acres, and that Latimer, her nephew, has married a wealthy girl. In reality, about two acres of the ranch is paid for, and instead of being married, Latimer is only just beginning to fall in love with the sister of a neighboring rancher.

The unexpected arrival of Lady Alice from England, causes consternation in the camp, but a widow of means, owner of a nearby successful ranch takes pity on the three, and they concoct a plan to deceive the expected relative. A wife has to be found for Latimer, so Reggie Popple, the Englishman, is made to assume the role against his will. The unexpected arrival of his uncle, from whom he expects to receive money, adds to the tangle, and the many diverting situations cause much laughter.

Richard Bellars, who played the role of Reggie Popple, the Englishman, showed a fine sense of comedy, and was most amusing as the "wife" of Latimer, played by Barle Hines. The role of William Murphy, the ex-Irish sergeant, gave Jack Settle much scope for the creation of many farcical situations. Richard Scott as General John de Bang.

IS IMPRESSED WITH CANADIAN ART

Stewart Dick, National Gallery Lecturer, Arrives in City

Stewart Dick, official lecturer in art for the National Gallery, London, and the Canadian National Gallery, has arrived in the city and will be the guest of his brother, William Dick, 1550 Wilmet Place, during his stay here. Mr. Dick will give a lecture on art at the Crystal Garden on Thursday evening at 8.15, which His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will attend.

In a conversation with him yesterday, Mr. Dick had some complimentary things to say about Canada and Canadian art in general, and is much impressed with the cordial reception he has received wherever his lectures have been given.

"Certainly some of the most interesting examples of modern landscape paintings are at present being produced by Canadian artists," he said. Canada, he further states, is at the beginning of a great period of artistic development.

His wife, Dorothy Dick, who is also an artist and portrait sculptor, has remained in Toronto where she is engaged in some art work, but will join her husband on his return lecture tour.

At Mr. Dick's special request arrangements have been made for as many young people as possible to attend his lecture on Thursday, and the senior grade pupils at the public and private schools will be admitted at a special fee.

CITY SHELVES PLAN TO DISCUSS UNION WITH ITS NEIGHBOR

Alderman William Marchant's Motion is Tabled Indefinitely Sentiment in Oak Bay and Other Municipalities Against Action at This Time

Alderman Marchant's motion calling for city discussions of the problems of union met with a cold reception at the City Council chamber last night. The sponsor of the motion spoke at some length, outlining a tentative basis on which such discussion could be brought to a head. He rehearsed the case as already outlined by him on previous occasions, and said that there was much to be gained in favor of union, though the debt question would be its greatest obstacle.

At the close of eight discussion the council tabled the motion with the object of taking it up again at any time Oak Bay shows an inclination of desiring a conference on the issue. Alderman Marchant's parting words were in the form of a prophecy. He would predict, he said, that before many years had passed the leaders of the surrounding municipalities would be coming to the city on their knees to ask to be taken into a Greater Victoria union.

The history of all large centres has been one of union with the surrounding districts, he said, and the time was coming when the same move would have to be made on the lower end of Vancouver Island. It was the place of the surrounding districts to apply for membership in the greater group, the council held, and declined to take up union proposals at this time.

Alderman E. S. Woodward moved a twelve months' postponement of the Marchant motion, but this was lost. Alderman W. H. Cullin suggested tabling the matter, which could then be taken up by the city at any time it saw fit. All other motions were not ripe for active union proposals at the present.

BIG CANADIAN CROP NOW ALMOST ALL IN; CUTWORMS ARE BEING CONTROLLED

Winnipeg, May 18.—Conditions favorable to seeding and crop growth prevail throughout the entire West, according to the crop report of the Canadian National Railways, issued yesterday.

The whole of the West is participating equally in ideal weather conditions, and although Manitoba failed to share in the rains which were general throughout Alberta and Saskatchewan, all points have sufficient moisture for immediate needs and apparently there is also a good reserve. Cutworms have been noticed in one or two places in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but no damage from them has been reported.

In Southern Saskatchewan practically all the wheat is in the ground and from twenty to forty per cent of the coarse grains have been seeded. Soil drifting has been arrested by heavy rains during the last week. Seeding and growth in ten days ahead of the same period of last year, and wheat is above the ground and showing vigorous growth. Central Saskatchewan conditions practically equalled those of the South. In the North from eighty to ninety per cent of the wheat seeding is completed, but not much of the coarse grains. This work has been retarded by rain. On the whole conditions throughout Saskatchewan are extremely bright.

From eighty-five to ninety per cent of the wheat seeding has been completed in Alberta, and that same favorable conditions prevail in the other two provinces. Not much has been done with coarse grains as yet. The supply of moisture is adequate and an adequate reserve appears to be available. Frosts which have not caused any damage have occurred at one or two points. The grain is coming along well and livestock is looking better than is usually the case at this season of the year.

ALBERTA NEARLY FINISHED

Edmonton, May 18.—The following government report of crop conditions in Alberta was issued to-day: Seeding of wheat is practically completed, throughout the Province and, seeding of coarse grains is well advanced. Early sown wheat is well above the ground and looking healthy. Growing conditions generally throughout the Province are excellent. The weather since last report has been generally cool and showery, with a few very warm days. Almost every part of the province has been visited by rain, which has varied in extent from light showers in some districts to heavy downpours in others.

The outstanding comment to be made upon the situation at present is the fact that all growth in the province is much in advance of other years. This is due largely to the fact that the completion of seeding has been recorded considerably earlier than in former years. Early sown wheat is now several inches above the ground in many districts, and growing rapidly. More rain will be needed in some districts if this rapid growth is to be sustained but at present conditions may be said to be quite satisfactory.

Cutworms are still active in some districts, but measures to control them apparently have been generally effective.

INCREASED ACREAGE REPORTED

Edmonton, May 18.—Wheat seeding has been practically completed over the greater part of central Alberta under the most favorable conditions, according to information supplied by over eighty special correspondents of the Edmonton Journal.

Reports from many districts at that date indicate that all the wheat has been in the ground for some time and that a great deal of it is making splendid growth. In a few localities seeding will be finished this week.

In a number of districts rains are needed to offset the effects of drying winds during the last week or two. One of the most encouraging features of the report is the almost general increase in acreage under crop this year. Very few districts have less than ten per cent in this year, and in some cases this is as high as fifty per cent. This is due largely to new breaking by new settlers.

Apart from the increased acreage in wheat and other cereal crops, many districts report a growing tendency to plant corn, alfalfa, sweet clover and other forage crops, indicative of the spread of diversified farming methods.

AMUNDSEN AND NOBLE IN CLASH

When Amundsen pleaded, "There are perhaps some statements in the story I would want to deny," the publisher replied: "You will have plenty of opportunity and time after The Nugget is printed to deny any statements you see fit."

Maynard said: "Captain Amundsen, not being altogether of the publisher's viewpoint, immediately left the office in disgust."

Four Arctic explorers settled down to-day to routine life in a cabin here and continued to exchange reminiscences of their experience in flying over the top of the world. Awaiting the arrival of a steamer, the party, headed by Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole and the third to reach the North Pole, are content to rest. There were indications of a long stay, as the next ship out of Nome will leave on June 15.

NORGE PACKED UP

The Norge, the huge gas bag in which the explorers made their way through clouds, for banks of snow, temperatures from Spitzbergen to Teller, is being carefully packed for shipment out of Alaska by steamship when the ice-locked harbor thaws out.

Captain Amundsen, Lincoln Ellsworth of New York and Captain Oskar Wiisting of Oslo, Norway, all members of the expedition party, are occupying a cabin which they have christened "The Explorers' Club." There they plan to hold forth until a steamer is sighted.

An undersized fox terrier dog, Tine, the pet of Colonel Noble, happened to be on the ship when the Norge was one passenger apparently happy to be on earth once more after his trip over the uncharted airways of the polar region.

Rome, May 18.—Premier Mussolini was highly pleased over the flight of the Italian-built dirigible Norge from Spitzbergen clouds, for banks of snow, temperatures from Spitzbergen to Teller, is being carefully packed for shipment out of Alaska by steamship when the ice-locked harbor thaws out.

complished fact and a new victory in the history of civilization. In my capacity as chairman of the American committee and adviser to the 1926 trans-Polar flight of Amundsen, Ellsworth and Noble, I consider it my duty to express my admiration to the three nations, Italy, Norway and the United States, all of which contributed so generously and shared in the anxieties and perils of the glorious enterprises."

"To the genial and intrepid Colonel Umberto Nobile and his valiant crew goes universal recognition, for through them the legendary expedition was accomplished and Amundsen and Ellsworth were enabled to make studies."

BONDS STRENGTHENED

"I am waiting for what the audacious navigators will communicate to us regarding their experiences, which are of great interest to science, but we may yet affirm their heroic effort has vastly strengthened the relations of sympathy and amity between the three nations, Italy, Norway and the United States, all of which contributed so generously and shared in the anxieties and perils of the glorious enterprises."

By pumping gasoline with a hand device into its tanks from cans, an aeroplane piloted by A. A. Bennett and carrying a photographer named Rodebaugh was enabled to win a race into Fairbanks last night with news-reel pictures of the dismantling of the North Pole dirigible at Teller, Alaska. A second plane, chartered by a rival news reel company, arrived here fifteen minutes after the first one.

Questioned as to who was behind the project, Mr. Hibbard said a strong group of Boston bankers, he was asked.

"I have not permission to use their names," said Mr. Hibbard.

"It is proposed to build this line and then unload it on the Canadian National," asked R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York—Sunbury, New Brunswick.

"No," replied Mr. Hibbard. "I was asked that by Sir Henry Thornton and I told him we proposed to run it as an independent road, not as a subsidiary of any railway."

The discussion ended with the vote on the preamble.

CHAPTER XLVI
The smile died on Mary Lowell's mouth. She bit her lip and stared, uncomprehending, at Jimmy's vanishing form.

Barry Colvin, his hat in his hand, called cheerily, "Jim! Oh, Jim!" He mumbled words vaguely at Mary, not realizing she was not near enough to hear.

"He's crazy," he called then, "see what's the matter with him."

But Jimmy was not crazy. He had recognized, in the man who was boarding the street car, none other than Kid Divis.

There was no time for explanations. Everything else could wait.

"I'll get him away this time," he snarled.

He swung aboard the car, just as the conductor was closing the door.

He glanced swiftly about him, his head lowered, his eyes peering.

He thought, "I mustn't take any chance of being recognized."

Divis had moved up in the car. Jimmy saw a newspaper lying on the rear platform. He picked it up, slid into the seat nearest the conductor, from where he could observe Divis's back, and shielded his face with the paper.

He wondered what he would do—what his plan of action would be—how Divis would see him and leave the car.

"Grab him, that's all," he told himself, and sat, hoping that there would be no such action needed.

It wasn't Divis he wanted, he told himself. It was Jensen. Divis, if arrested, would only lie again about Jensen's whereabouts. Perhaps he was going to see Jensen now.

Once Divis glanced nervously toward the rear of the car. Jimmy, his face exposed, shifted the paper quickly in front of his eyes, striving for an outward show of nonchalance that he did not feel.

But Divis had not seen him—or, at least, had not recognized him—for he turned slowly around again and stared out of the car window.

The car rolled on-block after block. Passengers left at nearly every stop, and now a new fear struck Jimmy—that if they rode much further he and Divis would be alone on the car. In which event, he knew, he must be recognized.

Minutes passed to Jimmy, nervous, apprehensive, they seemed like hours.

The car, with fewer stops to make, rushed along at amazing, dizzy speed.

Jimmy, still behind his newspaper, saw the passengers gradually thin until there were only three remaining besides himself and Divis.

"Good night!" he said to himself. "Is this man going to the end of the line?"

Another passenger left. The car moved on.

"End of the line," sang the conductor. "All out."

Divis had risen from his seat, was walking down the aisle toward the rear platform. Jimmy saw that Divis would pass him.

He thought, "I can't follow him out. What can I do? If I trail after him he's bound to recognize me."

Struck with sudden inspiration, he closed his eyes and gently tilted his head back, letting the paper fall against his face and completely hiding it from Divis's view. The other two passengers preceded Divis out of the car. Divis, with an amused glance at the sleeper in the rear seat, swung down off the steps.

"Hey in there, end of the line," yelled the conductor. He gave Jimmy a nudge to get up.

"Huh?" Jimmy was acting for the benefit of Divis. If he were still within earshot, he thought, his ruse might work. He said, in a voice disguised and husky, "Hell, I rode past my stop. I'll stay on an' ride back."

A fog had been gathering. It was thick, for which he thanked his lucky stars, but he could see Divis as he rounded the front end of the car and crossed the tracks.

The conductor lifted his hand to ring the bell.

"Wait a minute," cried Jimmy, checking him. "I've changed my mind. Let me off here. Just thought of a man I wanted to see that lives out here."

"Your friend might as well live at the North Pole as out here," observed the conductor. His humor was none too good. He opened the door with a bang and let Jimmy out.

The fog had closed so densely that Divis' rapidly walking figure was an indistinguishable blur up the street.

Jimmy saw that he was in a sparsely settled district. Houses—those that could be seen in the foggy murk—were few and far between.

No paved streets, no sidewalks, no cinder paths instead of sidewalks.

Ahead of him, just barely discernible, was Divis, still walking. Then, keeping a safe distance between them, Jimmy followed the dim figure up the street.

If the car ride had seemed to Jimmy to last for hours, the walk seemed like ages. Stretches between houses grew longer and longer.

Two Women Owe Health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Adolphe, Manitoba.—"I was very weak and had great pains during my periods so that I could not sweep the floor. The pains were in the right side and extended to the left and then down my back. It seemed as if the body was heavy and upside down. It is for these troubles I took the Vegetable Compound. I saw about it in a paper and one day I was prevailed on me to take it. It has helped me in every way, the pains are less, and I have more appetite. It is a pleasure to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to other women."—Mrs. J. J. Ralston, St. Adolphe, Manitoba.

Found Great Relief

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers. I have taken eight bottles and find great relief."—Mrs. J. J. Ralston, 115 Lower Ave., Toronto, Ont.

CITY AGREES TO FIGHT WATER CASE

Council to Join Water Committee in Preparation of Initial Proceedings

Saanich Told Pressure at Royal Oak is Within Own Control

A formal decision to take immediate steps to join issue with Oak Bay before the courts, and at any subsequent arbitration, was made by the City Council in regular session last night. The council refused the offer of settlement on a four-cent per 1,000 gallons basis, the counter-proposal held out by Oak Bay. The decision to fight the case was taken quietly, the council agreeing to sit in with the water committee in preliminary arrangements as to the engagement of legal counsel and other technical advisers.

FINAL STRIKE SCENES BY RADIO

Soldiers in full war equipment, rifles loaded, with armored motorcycles at hand, stood guard at crucial street corners in once staid old London. The military preparedness of the Government was a startling and picturesque feature of the great strike.

Within these guarded portals were more than 3,000 of the motor busses upon which London relied for so much of her local transportation. Not more than one in ten was operated during the strike. At the gates, this radio photo shows, policemen and soldiers are on guard. The yard is at Hammersmith, London.

MORE ANIMALS AND BIRDS FOR BEACON HILL SUGGESTED

City Should Consult Experts as to Development of Zoological Gardens

May 24 Committee Secures Further Grant of $1,000 For Holiday Period

Zoological exhibits at Beacon Hill Park engaged the attention of the City Council last night, on a motion by Alderman William Marchant. As chairman of the parks committee, the alderman stated the city was in receipt of an offer of advice from eminent zoological authorities whose assistance would be invaluable in making the Beacon Hill facilities attractive.

What was needed, it was asserted by Alderman Marchant, were additions to the animal and bird exhibits at the park. In other years the parks committee had endeavored to see light in this regard, but by reason of its lack of expert knowledge had not achieved anything worth while. Victoria could be the site of very fine zoological gardens, if the advice of experts was listened to, he thought.

For instance, continued Alderman Marchant, there was the pressing need of company for the Rocky Mountain goat, which had lived in lonely isolation at the park for the last three years. By paying the express charges from Banff the city could secure, through the offices of the Provincial Government, a mate for the goat. In this and other ways additions could be made to the exhibits at Beacon Hill, if some sensible plan were found and adhered to, he said.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar threw responsibility for the suggestion on Alderman J. A. Shanks, whose masterly flight for the retention of the bear pits at the park had preserved the idea of zoological gardens at Beacon Hill. Francis Kennedy, curator of the Provincial Museum, would be glad to assist in any such plan, and Mr. French, the well-known naturalist, had already offered to co-operate with the city in the formulation of any definite plan, continued Ald. Marchant.

After some discussion the parks committee was given leave to enter into a survey of what was possible along these lines, with the understanding that no great sum of money could be spent by the city in this manner.

Alderman Dewar, in passing, said that he would be willing to see $10,000 spent at Beacon Hill in the next few years, if that sum were deducted from the grant made to the public service.

Negotiations would not cost the city any extensive sums this year, promised the parks committee, in assenting to the motion passed.

Final reading was given to the amendments to the Lodging House By-Law, also adopted by the police commission. The measure gives the police greater control over hostels, with the object of eliminating sources of trouble heretofore found. The council ratified a thirty-day option extended to David Leeming to purchase the northeast corner of Quadra and View Streets for the sum of $2,500 on the usual terms, one-quarter cash and the balance in five years at six per cent.

The water committee, and its advisory group, protested to the council against the suggested beer license for premises near the Malahat Drive. The council should protect to the Liquor Commissioner against this application, urged the committee, on the ground that the resort might become a fire menace to the Goldstream watershed. Some members of the council stated they did not see what the water committee had to do with the application, but the recommendation passed, and the council's protest will go forward.

The short strip of roadway on St. Charles Street, known as "MacDonald Street," now reverts to its former nomenclature, and becomes "St. Charles Street," for the purpose of postal address. This action was achieved through special by-law passed last night.

The council gave protracted discussion to a proposal by Alderman P. R. Brown and H. C. Holmes, that committee recommendations calling for expenditure of sums not included in the estimates should pass first to the finance committee for sanction. The proposal carried in a modified form, the council agreeing to the principle of each committee informing the finance committee of its intention in such cases, leaving ratification, as usual, to the whole body, the council.

The council, urged by Dr. Arthur G. Price, City Health Officer, will make a personal tour of fifty-three houses recommended for demolition. Opportunity will be given to the owners to show cause why the council should not ratify the order for the destruction of their property. The tour is to be made in automobiles, and will take a full day, it was stated.

Fire Chief Vernon Stewart reported a genuine effort was being made to control the clinger nuisance in the mill district. Vancouver experiments with new type burners were being watched at this time, he stated.

Victoria's health record stands firmly at the top of the Canadian municipal tree, with seventeen cases of measles and twenty-three cases of whooping cough, the most serious afflictions attending city residents for the thirty days of April.

The council voted $1,000 to the May 24 committee as a guarantee in the face of an expected deficit. The sum is in addition to the $1,500 set down for the purpose at the first of the year. Alderman Harvey said that if any surplus were shown it would be handed back. Alderman W. H. Cullen and John Baxter, the city will suggest, should be added to the general committee.

INSUFFICIENT POSTAGE

Postmaster Bishop states that a check kept at the Victoria Post Office for a period of twelve months indicates that during that time $67 insufficiently prepaid and wholly unpaid letters addressed to foreign countries were mailed.

In accordance with the postal regulations governing such mail, these letters were forwarded from Victoria to destinations taxed double the amount of the insufficient and unpaid postage which would be collected from the addressee upon delivery.

The total tax thus collected from the friends, relatives and other correspondents in foreign overseas countries would aggregate over $66. As the greater proportion of the shortpaid and unpaid letters originated in Victoria, the postmaster wishes to invite the attention of the public to the inconvenience and annoyance caused their correspondents when the postage on letters is not fully prepaid.

He also suggests that the public have their letters for overseas countries carefully weighed before posting so as to avoid their friends and others being called upon to pay a tax at the time of delivery.

TIMBER ROYALTY ARGUMENTS HEARD IN SUPREME COURT

Amount Due Government Under Forestry Act Point at Issue

Arguments concerning the interpretation of the Forestry Act as it applied to royalties due to the Provincial Government on timber areas operated by D. O. and J. O. Cameron at Port Renfrew, Vancouver Island, were heard by Mr. Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court yesterday. H. A. MacLean, K.C., appeared for the Cameron Lumber Company, and J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., for the Government.

Judgment was reserved. A sum of approximately $7,000 is involved, the Court being asked to rule whether the company comes under the section of the act calling for a fifty-cent royalty per 1,000 feet on land leased from the government, or under the clause calling for the payment of $1.50 per 1,000 feet.

In his opening, Mr. MacLean submitted that in 1901 all persons holding timber leases were entitled under the act of that year to surrender them and obtain a renewal lease for a period of twenty-one years. The terms of the 1901 act were that the persons obtaining renewals were to pay fifty cents per 1,000 feet up to October 1914. That was the date the original lease would have expired in this case. Then such royalty as fixed by statute at that time in force was to be paid.

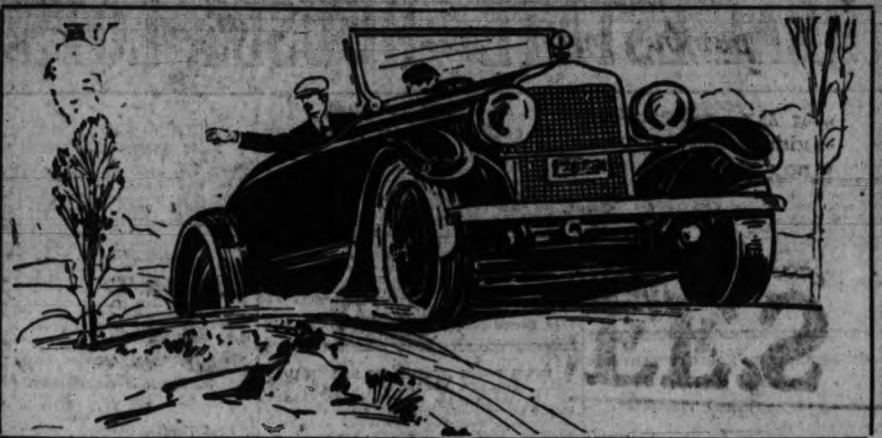

The Forestry Act of 1912 was the one in force he claimed. Section fifty-eight of that Act provided for the payment of royalty of fifty cents per 1,000 feet. Section thirteen says any person holding a timber lease may apply for a further renewal. Section fourteen says every lease holding a lease renewed under Section thirteen shall pay $1.50 per 1,000. Claimants say they did not get a renewal under Section thirteen of the 1912 Act, but under the Act of 1901. Section fourteen of the 1912 Act, they claim, only refers to those holding renewals by virtue of Section thirteen of the 1912 Act.

The case comes before the court after the Government has granted a petition of right for adjudication.

In 1901 the claimants had a lease good for twenty-one years, Mr. Farris replied, without privilege of renewal. In 1912 the new Act gave a perpetual renewal. At that time the lease had run eleven years. It had not been for the new Act at the end of twenty-one years the lease would have expired. The legislation said they had ten years to go under the old lease, and we wanted to change the terms of the lease for twenty-one years and split it in two parts. The first ten years would go as if it were an old lease, but the next ten years must conform to the royalties of 1914. The Act recognized the original leases and said the residue of the term should be governed by legislation.
